Eisenhower's Heart Is Okay, Hagerty Insists

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was stricken with abdominal pains early today, and in the afternoon was taken by ambulance from the White House to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

The White House said physicians had diagnosed the trouble as an ileitis, or inflammation of the lower portion of the small intestine, and that "there is no indication of any heart trouble."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said a cardiogram—a tracing of the heart action—would be taken at Walter Reed.

He described the hospitalization as a "precautionary measure."

Asked whether the President's condition could be called critical, Hagerty replied: "I have not used any adjectives."

In response to questions, Hagerty told newsmen that physicians had not made any suggestions to him that Eisenhower's illness was a result of food poisoning.

The Army ambulance was pulled up to the south side of the White House to receive the ailing chief executive.

It departed at 12:30 p.m. (EST) accompanied by a White House motorcycle escort.

Eisenhower could be seen lying in the ambulance. His hands were folded on his chest.

A crowd of about 100 persons had gathered, hoping to see the President, but the ambulance left by another exit.

Newsmen could not see whether the President was carried to the ambulance on a stretcher or walked.

Some time before the ambulance wheeled away, Mrs. Eisenhower left in a White House limousine—presumably going ahead to the hospital.

Sen Arrives

As her car reached the White House gate, an Army car pulled up and her son, Maj. John Eisenhower, leaped out.

"Mother," he said, and climbed into the White House car with her. Major Eisenhower is stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., south of Washington.

Also in the car were Lt. Col. Walter R. Tkach, assistant White House physician, and Col. Robert Schulz, presidential military aide.

The President was stricken early today, White House Physician Howard M. Snyder was called to his bedside at 1 a.m. (EST).

Hagerty said in his noonday report he was not going to attempt to reach any conclusions on his own as a layman. He said he would leave that to the physicians.

Hagerty issued this statement: "The President had an attack of an ileitis (inflammation of the lower portion of the small intestine)."

"As a precautionary measure he is being taken to Walter Reed Hospital this afternoon."

"His blood pressure and pulse are good."

Gunman Slays Two in Tavern, Third Outside

Kills Owner, Dice Girl In Chicago Bar, Paper Vendor on the Street

CHICAGO (AP) — A fast-shooting gunman invaded a North Side tavern early today, fatally shot one of the owners and a dice girl and then wantonly killed a 32-year-old newspaper vendor in the street.

Police said they had learned the identity of the gunman from a brother of one of the victims. They described him as an enraged ex-convict who had been arrested for creating a disturbance in the tavern a month ago.

The assassin first fired three shotgun blasts at Max Epstein, 45, who was in back of the bar of Mickey and Maxie's Miracles Cabaret at 1114 Argyle St.

Police said that about half a dozen customers were in the tavern when the gunman entered and started blasting at Epstein. They ran for cover and Epstein's brother Mickey, 37, rushed to a rear room to get a gun.

The gunman, after shooting Epstein, ran half the length of the bar and fired at the girl, identified as Lois Gates, 28.

The gunman threatened some of the customers as he fled from the tavern. Running into the street, police said, he bumped into the news vendor.

He fired one shot at the man, who was not immediately identified. He died shortly after he was taken to Edgewater Hospital.

Mickey Epstein told police that the slayer was Lawrence N. (Larry) Neumann, 28, whom he had arrested last May 9 after they had a fight in the tavern. Police said records showed Neumann had served prison sentences for armed robbery.

Forty Others Run From Bank and Reach Safety

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —

The most destructive rockfall in the recorded history of the spectacular Niagara Gorge took one man's life late Thursday and left the huge Schoellkopf hydroelectric station in tumbled-down ruins.

The loss was estimated 100 million dollars today.

More than 40 other employees of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. scrambled along the precipitous bank to safety as two of the station's three sections roared into the wild rapids behind them.

Damage Is Millions

Some 300,000 kilowatts of power capacity was wiped out.

A company official estimated the damage at 100 million after a preliminary survey. Geologists were summoned to try to determine the exact cause and recommend preventive measures.

During the night the city was without power.

There was no estimate of the size of the rockfall, but the "bite" from the wall of the gorge was more than 500 feet wide and the weight of the rubble probably ran well into the thousands of tons.

Richard A. Draper, 39, of near-by Lewiston, a machinist, was swept away in the cascading remnants of powerhouse walls. His body was not immediately recovered.

Draper and the others had been working feverishly sandbagging a leak at the base of the station half a mile downstream from the American Falls, where a giant rockfall destroyed Prospect Point July 28, 1954. The seepage had been discovered only a few hours earlier.

The staccato reports of cracking walls warned the men that the end of the building was near.

6 Democratic Winners May Be Defaulted

They Failed To File Expense Statements Under New Ohio Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said today he will accept campaign expense statements of candidates filing late, but warned that the delay might prevent them from seeking public office for the next five years.

A new law places the five-year ban on candidates failing to file expense statements by 4 p.m. Thursday for the May 8 primary election campaign.

Brown said certifications of six Democratic winners in the primary in Cleveland are being withheld because they failed to meet the filing deadline.

The status of some other candidates still is questionable, he added.

Brown told newsmen Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze got his report in just under the wire.

Brown said it bore a 5 p.m. EDT, postmark of Thursday which met the 4 p.m., EST, deadline. Celebrezze was elected a delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention pledged to Gov. Frank J. Lausche as Ohio's "favorite son."

The Cuyahoga County Election Board received a campaign statement from Celebrezze, but Brown says statute requires him to file with the secretary of state.

Brown indicated that the postmark will determine acceptance of other reports.

Commenting on tardy reports by others, Brown declared: "I think that we will eventually rule that a late filing for the primary will not disqualify a candidate for the general election in November."

"As to subsequent elections, that will have to be decided later."

Brown said he has not received statements from Robert F. Britton of Newbury, Geauga County, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in the 11th District of north eastern Ohio.

One Marion Candidate Fails To Make Report

Only one of 123 Marion County political aspirants who campaigned for nomination or election at the recent May primary failed to file expense accounts with the Marion County Board of Elections, according to board officials.

Robert A. Tripp, Democratic candidate for sheriff, by failing to file by the deadline Thursday, is thus ineligible to run for public office for a period of five years, board officials said.

Two candidates who filed Wednesday and Thursday respectively, rounded out the county's total of office-seekers who made reports.

John L. Davis, Republican candidate for county commissioner, had campaign expenses of $148, while William Goodwin, also a GOP candidate for the job of county commissioner, spent $352, board spokesmen reported.

Committee Reviews Proposals

Vote on Marion Traffic Survey Seen Next Week

Decision to begin actual discussion next Tuesday night on whether to recommend acceptance of north-south traffic improvements proposed in the Marion arterial highway report was reached by the joint traffic committee Thursday night.

In other discussion in this third meeting of the group, nine motions were adopted acknowledging the committee's understanding of the recommendations and remarks of engineers on a proposed one-way street system with railroad underpasses for Routes 23 and 4 through the city.

CHAIRMAN Harry L. Dowler explained the purpose of reviewing the recommendations and remarks on the report made Tuesday night by Dean Roberts of Browne, Roberts and Associates and Milo B. Richey of the State Department of Highways. He said it was to give the committee a clear understanding of the proposals before actually discussing whether to accept or reject all or part of the report.

The committee also decided to request that both Mr. Roberts and Mr. Richey attend its meeting next Tuesday night to help clarify any specific questions which may arise in the discussions.

In its previous two meetings the committee had organized, elected Mr. Dowler chairman, decided to discuss first the north-south traffic proposals, and heard comments by the two engineers on the recommended improvements as well as possible alternate plans.

Mr. Dowler said last night that unless discussion is drawn out on the question of accepting or rejecting the report, the committee may decide at next Tuesday or Thursday's meeting on what recommendation to make to City Council.

The committee previously decided it must wind up its deliberations by June 21 so that its recommendation may be presented to council by its June 25 meeting.

This was planned so that if the committee does recommend acceptance of the plan, council may enact legislation to place a bond issue or tax levy to pay the city's share of the costs on the November ballot. Any such issue must be filed with the Board of Elections 110 days prior to the date of the election.

THE CITY'S share of the cost was estimated in the report to be about $160,000, of which $153,000 was for right-of-way and property damage costs. At Tuesday's meeting it was tentatively agreed that these figures were too low, that the city's total share would be nearer $500,000 to $600,000.

The state would pay 95 per cent of actual construction costs and 75 per cent of right-of-way costs up to a probable limit of about $2,200,000. Browne and Roberts had estimated total cost of

Soviet Church Leaders Tour Philadelphia

Fly East After Visit In Homes of Farm Families at Seville, O.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eight Soviet church leaders set out this morning on a one-day tour of Philadelphia.

The Russian religious chieftains are on the sixth day of a 10-day visit to the United States as guests of the National Council of Churches. They came here to repay a visit made by American church leaders to the Soviet Union in March.

The Soviet dignitaries flew here Thursday night from Cleveland after visiting with typical American families in their homes in Seville, Ohio.

Declared Seville farmer Dick Pursley after he had entertained Arch Priest Mikhail Slavitsky of Leningrad. "It would be wonderful if there were more of this sort of thing—more people coming together this way from different countries."

Pursley's opinion seemed to express that of other Ohio families with whom the Russians dined. The hosts found their guests to be friendly and interesting people and both guests and hosts came away with increased respect for each other.

The eldest member of the Soviet church delegation, Bishop Sahak of the Armenian Church, who is 77, kept his hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detwiler of Seville in stitches by bright remarks and infectious chuckles.

The Armenian bishop asked one of Seville's Protestant clergymen how he could manage to support his church without selling candles.

In the USSR sale of candles provides the principal revenues for the Orthodox and Armenian churches. The American pastor explained patiently about collections in church and pledges from church members. Bishop Sahak said he understood the system but explained that he hadn't had very good luck with it.

The Russians had come to Seville fresh from a session at Wooster College. Among greetings they received at this Presbyterian school was one from students which emphasized the ties between Christians of all nations and put allegiance to Christ above loyalty to either the Kremlin or the White House.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) scored a dramatic victory Thursday when the House backed up the committee-approved cut of $1,089,000,000 in Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 request.

Eisenhower, through a "Dear Joe" letter to Martin, joined personally in strenuous efforts by Martin and Rayburn to restore 600 million dollars of the committee cut.

Martin read to a hushed House Eisenhower's letter saying "America's security and our partnership with like-minded nations in the world will be seriously impaired."

Ike and Congress Leaders Beaten in 192-112 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second

major foreign aid battle shaped up in the House today over whether to continue America's military and economic help to Communist Yugoslavia.

With administration support, House Democratic and Republican leaders tried to ward off stiff congressional demands to end aid to the country whose President Tito is now visiting and soliciting closer ties with Russia.

Not Optimistic

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts, beaten in their effort to restore funds President Eisenhower had asked for military aid, were not optimistic about their chances on the Yugoslav issue.

But supporters of an amendment by Rep. Edna F. Kelly (D-NY) to cut off aid to Yugoslavia were cautious about predicting victory.

Eisenhower asked 30 million dollars in economic aid to Yugoslavia, plus a larger but secret amount of military assistance. The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted to chop the 30 million in half.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) scored a dramatic victory Thursday when the House backed up the committee-approved cut of $1,089,000,000 in Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 request.

Views Sought On Purchase Of Cedar Point

Lausche Sounds Out Legislators on Idea; State Park Suggested

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today he has asked the reaction of legislative leaders to a proposal that the state buy Cedar Point, a resort on Lake Erie.

The timing of his sounding out of the leaders was taken to mean he might expand his call to the Legislature for a June 28 session to include the Cedar Point project.

Sale of the summer resort for a real estate development is brewing now. Lausche pointed out to newsmen it might be "too late" to wait until the next regular session of the Legislature in January to seek authorization for purchase by the state.

The 400-acre tract, west of Sandusky, has 7,000 feet of fine beach—one of the best on Lake Erie.

The state department of natural resources already has been instructed to investigate the possibility of establishing a state park at Cedar Point. Lausche has been advised it would cost about 1 1/4 million dollars to buy the land and develop it as a state park.

Doctor Is Suspended From Hospital's Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Virginia S. Edwards, of Mansfield, has been suspended for 30 days from the Mount Vernon State Hospital medical staff.

I. S. Rian, superintendent of the hospital, said Dr. Edwards was suspended for disciplinary reasons.

Rian said he would make no other comment.

Brush-Moore Honors Paper At Steubenville

Herald-Star in 150th Year; Board, Officers Re-Elected at Meeting

STEUBENVILLE — Stockholders and directors of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in annual meeting here Thursday, paid their respects to the Steubenville Herald-Star in its 150th year of continuous publication.

Second to the Chillicothe Gazette, founded in 1800, the Herald-Star is the oldest newspaper in Ohio without change of title other than that created by absorption of the Star in 1889. It was founded June 7, 1806, by James Lowry and John Miller as the weekly Western Herald. Its second owner was James Wilson, grandfather of President Woodrow Wilson, through purchase in 1815 Publication of the Daily Herald began March 29, 1847.

Louis H. Brush, Roy D. Moore and William H. Vodrey bought the Herald-Star in 1925 from Charles D. Simmer and associates. After establishment of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in 1927 it became one of the eight daily publications under this ownership. Others are The Canton Repository, Salem News, East Liverpool Review, Marion Star, Portsmouth Times, Ironton Tribune and Salisbury, Md., Times. The company also owns radio station WHBC in Canton.

Stockholders re-elected as members of the board of directors G. Gordon Strong, William T. Moore, Joseph K. Vodrey, William I. Hershey, Leonard L. Crossley and John D. Raridan of Canton, Thomas S. Brush of Salem and William H. Vodrey Jr. of East Liverpool. The directors re-elected officers as follows: president and general manager, Mr. Strong; vice presidents, Mr. Brush, Mr. Moore and Joseph K. Vodrey; secretary-treasurer, William H. Vodrey Jr. Re-elected as members of the executive committee were Mr. Brush, Mr. Moore and William H. Vodrey Jr. Mr. Raridan is the company's publisher and executive editor.

A resolution of respect for James R. Troxell, whose death occurred May 16, 1955, after more than 27 years of service as auditor and director, was read into the corporation record at the stockholders' meeting.

The awards were presented by Col J. Arthur Hamilton, commanding officer.

Salem Will Begin Celebration of Its 150th Anniversary

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—The City of Salem, founded by a Quaker from New Jersey in 1806, starts celebrating its 150th birthday Saturday.

The week-long celebration will include pageants, costume balls, sports events, fireworks displays and parades.

The men are wearing beards. The women wear gingham and calico. The streets are decorated with flags.

Miss Joan Rousch, 21, will be crowned queen Monday by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Sen. George H. Bender will speak June 16.

Elisha Schooley from Virginia settled in this spot in 1801. Other Quakers followed him, and the town was laid out in 1806 by Zadok Street, who named it Salem after his hometown in New Jersey.

A pageant called "The Saga of Salem" will be given five performances starting Monday night in Reilly Stadium.

'Think Break' Advised By Psychology Teacher

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The daily coffee break at the office should be joined by the "think break."

An associate professor of psychology at the University of California, Harrison Gough, made that proposal Thursday.

He says workers should be granted a "think time—as much time as is allotted for coffee breaks—so that they can sit down and think out their problems without interruption."

Then, when they get back to work, Gough said, "their minds will be free and they'll know what they're doing."

O'Neill Groups List Spending On Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — Four committees which campaigned for Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who won the Republican nomination for governor in the May 8 primary, Thursday reported contributions totaling $38,100 and expenditures of $35,496.

O'Neill himself reported receiving $250 and spending $244. His campaign committee reported contributions of $33,188, expenditures of $32,873 and unpaid debts of $8,200. His Franklin County committee received $3,912, spent $1,751 and reported the balance available for the Nov. 6 election campaign. Revolution Still Doctrine

Kremlin Smiles Mask Grim Purpose of Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Soviet communism is playing a bold double game.

The Kremlin seeks to make itself respectable in the eyes of the Western world. But it makes no effort to hide the fact that it still actively supports and inspires revolution by violence.

Moscow proclaims itself the champion of peaceful coexistence. But Communist doctrine in its up-to-date revision clings to the notion that Western capitalism must lead to war.

Russian leaders are engaged in a concentrated campaign to win friends. But Moscow still preaches subversion by trickery, deceit and violence.

THE SOVIET hierarchy throws out one challenge after another to the West, and looks for challenges to accept. It may even go so far—in the light of reappraisal of push-button war prospects of the future—as to accept some aspects of President Eisenhower's open skies proposals for mutual air inspection of military installations.

The Russian leadership may do this because its planning is long range. The immediate objectives are propaganda victories aimed at breaking down Western unity. For the next 10 years at least, the Soviet Communists have indicated, the idea of world war is ruled out. But the Soviet Union will remain armed to the teeth, prepared to take advantage of any accident that might require a revision of the timetable.

The Soviet program has been publicly spelled out, for the benefit of Communist leaders from 55 countries who attended the 20th Soviet Communist Congress in Moscow last February. The dogma, laid down in the resolutions of that Congress, is that there can be no true peace while capitalism exists. The specific resolution said:

"While capitalism remains on earth, the reactionary forces representing the interests of the capitalist monopolies will also, in the future, strive for military adventures and aggressions and try to unleash a war."

THE COMMUNIST leadership bases its thinking on the idea that world capitalism is in crisis. It waits for an economic crash in the United States which will send Europe into a tailspin. On this basis, the U.S.S.R. has undertaken a 10 or 15-year program of building for economic competition with the U. S. It hopes to break down Western unity and "position of strength," and be in a position to push Soviet communism into new adventures without risking World War III.

Veterans Reunion Slated at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Approximately 100 veterans of the 753rd Railway Shop Battalion, which trained at Camp Millard here during World War II, are expected in Bucyrus this week-end for the group's seventh annual reunion.

A business meeting, banquet and dance will be held Saturday at the Moose Home, and there will be a general outing and get-together Sunday at the Crawford County fairgrounds, which was the site of Camp Millard.

The first, second, third and sixth reunions were held in Bucyrus with other reunions in Indianapolis and Youngstown.

Ray Tittle of Sandusky, a former Bucyrus, is president of the association and Charles Seyler, of Bucyrus is secretary-treasurer. The arrangements committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Tittle, Mr. and Mrs. Seyler, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Malone and Mr. and Mrs. Paul White.

During last year's reunion, a memorial plaque to Camp Millard and the men who trained there was dedicated. The plaque was donated by county commissioners.

Master of ceremonies at the banquet will be Rev. M. P. Paetzack, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

FDR Jr. May Not Be Convention Candidate

NEW YORK (U)—Because his law firm is counsel for the Dominican Republic, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., may not be selected as a delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention.

Democratic leaders declined to comment on the matter today, but reports persisted that they felt Roosevelt's role as legal representative for the government of Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo has embarrassed the party.

Roosevelt also had no comment. He is registered with the department of justice as legal counsel for the Caribbean Republic, together with Charles Patrick Clark, a Washington, D. C., attorney. They share equally in a $60,000 annual fee.

The son of the late President was not a candidate for a post as district delegate to the national convention in last Tuesday's delegate-at-large designations to be made at the Democratic state convention here June 19.

BUCYRUS — Contracts for construction of the new Central Elementary School and additions to two existing buildings were awarded Thursday night by the Bucyrus Board of Education.

Weithman Brothers of Galion was given the general contract on a bid of $513,400. The plumbing and heating contract went to the Pace Plumbing and Heating Co. of Galion which submitted a bid of $192,918. Strasser and Son of Upper Sandusky submitted the successful electrical contract bid, $52,450.

Work on the new building is to start in two to three weeks, according to McLaughlin and Keil, Lima architectural firm which drew up plans for the work. The firm was allowed a fee of $34,144 for its work.

The completion date on the projects is Sept. 1, 1957. The work represents an expenditure of half of $1,650,000 approved by the voters last fall.

The new Central School will contain 13 classrooms, a multi-purpose room, offices and a library. At the Kearsley School, seven new classrooms, a music room and an art room are to be added to the school building. Two new classrooms and a multi-purpose room is to be added to the Kilbourne School. In addition, new heating plants and remodeling work is to be done at both buildings.

There were three other bids submitted for the general contracting work, two for the plumbing and heating and two for the electrical work. They were rejected.

Waiver of Union Membership Left To Local Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO has refused to extend any blanket waiver from union membership to members of religious sects with scruples against belonging to labor unions.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said however that any AFL-CIO union could waive membership and dues payment for such people if they saw fit.

A bearded group of the old German Baptist Brethren, a small sect centered in Ohio and Pennsylvania, visited Meany here a few weeks ago to ask exemption of their members from a union shop requirement that they join a union in order to keep their jobs.

They said they had fled here from Germany years ago to preserve their religious freedom but now were faced with joining unions against their beliefs. They offered instead to contribute to charity an amount of money equal to union dues.

Meany said many unions have made exceptions for such people. But he said no blanket order to waive union membership could be made because a large non-union group in some plant might prevent a union from exercising its bargaining or other functions.

Only the Taxpayers Are Unified

President Eisenhower has dumped oil on the troubled waters of the armed services dispute, but don't be surprised if the disputants ignite the oil.

The President says he thinks differences of opinion are wholesome, and they undoubtedly are when military theories are undergoing revision as the result of scientific discoveries.

But the central fact in this latest dispute, as in all disputes that have happened before, is that the militarists and their civilian backers are arguing more about the taxpayers' money than theories about waging war.

The only thing unified about the Pentagon's rival tenants is the source of the money they spend. A taxpayer does not know or want to know what happens to each dollar he pays, but he does want to feel that all his dollars are being disposed of according to the best collective judgment of the best military minds available.

He does not relish the practice of carrying on public disputes in the hope of bringing outside pressure to bear on professional judgment — and that is the obvious purpose of this dispute.

When there was no Joint Chiefs of Staff — when there was no semblance of unification — a Billy Mitchell was justified in going to politics to settle his dispute with the Army and Navy brass. That is why the Unification Act was passed to enable militarists to work out their problems professionally, instead of politically.

The Rarest Quality

The least puzzling thing in Washington seems to be Senate confirmation of Frederick A. Seaton's appointment as U.S. secretary of interior without a dissenting vote. For once, everybody can agree on something.

For the new secretary of the interior holds a past mastership in the art of getting along with his fellowmen and in recent years has been doing extensive and intensive original research in this most neglected of all fields of human endeavor.

Despite his reputation for getting things done, he manages to do them without walking on the toes of others, questioning their motives, rousing their ire, or stirring their rancor. No one understands how he turns the trick, though, because he does it so effortlessly he attracts no attention while doing it.

Secretary Seaton is young — only 40. He is an Eisenhower careerist in Washington, but Democrats and even anti-Eisenhower Republicans don't seem to mind his personal loyalty to the President, instead of a political party, because the Seaton trait that stands out most prominently is the ability to make friends anywhere and everywhere.

He should be a successful secretary of the interior if there is anything to the axiom that the ultimate secret of success in all administrative posts is to make everybody on the team want to put in their best ticks to please the boss.

Protection Is for Children

Although it would have been better if the Fourth Ohio District Court of Appeals had found nontechnical reasons to reverse a contempt conviction of the Gallipolis Tribune editor for publishing the names of five juveniles sent to the Boys Industrial School, any reversal heartens newspapermen in a case like this.

Newspapers have gone to great lengths in Ohio and other states to help juvenile courts protect the good names of children who get into trouble and are entitled to get out of it with no undue handicap.

But this protection was designed for children. The state of being a child in chronological age compels no tender thoughts when the "child" turns into a social menace by repeated and deliberate choice.

Newspapers withhold the names of juveniles at their own discretion. They owe them nothing when they reveal by repeated offenses against society that they are no longer entitled to the protection due to children.

Automobiles Here To Stay

Property adjoining the Ohio Turnpike in the city of Elyria, according to Elyria Mayor Grant Keys, has increased in value since the toll road was built through the city after a prolonged and bitter court battle.

One of the arguments used was that the turnpike would take away property values. It is one of the arguments always used to obstruct public improvements.

There rarely is any basis for it, other than a conviction that the improvement, whatever it is going to be, will change the nature of the property and thereby decrease its intrinsic value to an owner opposed to the change.

But the fact is that the change may not only make the property more valuable to its existing owner but enhance its value to a potential owner. A survey reported to Public Administration Clearing House on limited access roads built in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut revealed that generally these modern highways either improved adjacent real estate values or at least did not undermine them.

Perhaps it's as obvious as the truism that the automobile is here to stay. The great majority of us have made up our minds to live with it on the most attractive terms that can be arranged, one of which is the limited-access addition to cities and countryside.

America Never Neutral

By David Lawrence

Has Played World Role Throughout History

President Eisenhower doesn't often make mistakes with his impromptu remarks at press conferences but when he does it usually has international repercussions. He almost pulled the rug from under his whole foreign aid program by letting it be implied that nations which stay "neutral" in the "cold war" against Communist imperialism can still get financial benefits from the United States.

The President fell victim to the oft-repeated alibi of the "uncommitted" nations which argue that since the United States stayed "neutral" during the first century or more of her existence, such a policy now is justified for them. This inaccurate statement of American history has repeated often by various spokesmen for and champions of the "neutralist" cause in Asia, but it is surprising to see the President accept it and give it to his press conference as a valid argument.

Mr. Eisenhower's exact words were these: "If you are waging peace, you can't be too particular sometimes about the special attitudes that different countries take. We were a young country once, and our whole policy for the first hundred years was — or more, one hundred and fifty — we were neutral. We constantly asserted we were neutral in the wars of the world and wars in Europe and Asia."

BUT WHAT ARE the facts? In 1801, the United States declared war on Tripoli, which had interfered with American shipping in the Mediterranean. "Millions for defense, not a cent for tribute" was the battle cry.

The American republic was less than 25 years old when it entered a world war known on this side of the Atlantic as the War of 1812.

The United States entered that war on the side of the French, who were fighting Britain. The main causes were the impressment of American seamen on the high seas by the British, blockade of American ports by the British and violation of U.S. neutral rights on the high seas.

In 1821, when the Russian czar issued his famous order extending Russian claims in the Pacific and closing the Bering Strait to commercial shipping of other nations, the young American republic, publicly challenged the action.

In 1823, the United States served notice in what became known as the Monroe Doctrine that the American continents were no longer to be considered as subjects for future colonization by European powers and that this country would consider dangerous to its peace and safety any attempt on the part of the European powers to extend their system to this hemisphere. This was a participation in world affairs which, coming from the young republic, was bold and defiant.

During the American War Between the States, President Lincoln did not hesitate to send a stern warning to Great Britain, which had recognized the belligerency of the Confederacy, when British ships sought to run the blockade of the Union navy.

In 1895, President Cleveland served notice on Great Britain that if it interfered in a boundary dispute in Venezuela it "will be the duty of the United States to resist by every means in its power, as a willful aggression upon its rights and interests, the appropriation by Great Britain of any lands or the exercise of any governmental jurisdiction over any territory which after investigation we have determined of right belongs to Venezuela."

In 1898, the United States intervened in a war to save Cuba from Spanish oppression.

In 1900, the United States joined with five European powers and landed American Marines on the mainland of China to do battle against the Boxer rebels who had besieged the foreign legations in Peking.

In 1917, the United States intervened in World War I to protect neutral rights on the high seas, and, in 1941, the United States intervened in World War II to protect its territories against attack.

THE UNITED STATES did not stand aloof at any time in its early or late history when there was aggression against its rights. The help of allies was sought not only in the American Revolution but in the War of 1812.

What the United States has tried to do in Southeast Asia by its pact there and in the treaties with Korea and Nationalist China and the Philippines is to arrange for common measures to resist aggression. The SEATO pact and the NATO treaty are really extensions of the Monroe Doctrine principle.

Mr. Eisenhower's words also will plague him with respect to West Germany. The Soviet regime wants Germany to be "neutralized."

Mr. Eisenhower speaks of the dangers that countries face which have "military associations" because they may have difficulties along their borders. Certainly the President didn't mean to give the impression that he favored neutrality for West Germany and a withdrawal from NATO, yet that's what his remarks can readily be construed to mean.

His closing words — uttered with reference to Yugoslavia — were somewhat inconsistent with his other view. He said:

"The reason we help and assist others is in the belief that this will help us, also."

That's the only basis on which a foreign-aid program will be voted. "Neutrals" will have a hard time getting any American taxpayers' money out of Congress.

Emancipation for Males

By TRUMAN TWILL

I have been reading with close-to-throbbing interest a workmanlike report on dishwashing by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

This has been one of civilization's neglected problems and it is good to know something finally has been done about it, besides the familiar habit of complaining that it is the most time-wasting exercise in futility yet conceived of by the mind of man.

It is understood that this observation reflects the attitude of a long-suffering male person who has washed and dried dishes the hard way as either a punishment, a duty, or a gesture of compassion from a tender age.

The issue whether the principle of automatic dishwashing is sound. That is what the report on dishwashing is concerned with — and if the people who went to the trouble of making it had come to Sunday Twill first they could have had their answer.

The best thing about automatic dishwashing is the automatic out it gives imposed-upon males who have been drafted, dragooned, dragged and dragged into helping with the dishes ever since Sir Walter Raleigh goaded by being nice to women.

Even if the dishwashing machines didn't work, they still would give the victims of woman's instinct to share her most unpleasant tasks with boys and men a chance to say, "Look, sis, they've got a machine for that now."

Women quit expecting men to help them do the laundry when washing machines were invented. They quit whining about lifting heavy irons when irons were electrified and steam-heated. They quit making men beat rugs when vacuum cleaners came on the scene.

They will quit expecting men to help them with the dishes when all houses are equipped with automatic dishwashers. If someone thinks this is a plug for an appliance, it is. But it also is an evening-up of an old score.

As a susceptible, wide-eyed child, women praised my thoroughness and sure-handedness as a dish wiper and thereby got hundreds of hours of free labor out of me.

As a teen-ager, I was thick enough in the head to think the way to a girl's favor was through the dish towel, which obviously set me up as an easy mark when I became a young husband.

But now that I am not a child any more, I do not think and act as a child around dishes. I do not think and act as a young husband around dishes, either, because I am not a young husband any more.

I am an old, leathery, disenchanted, gunshy, trap-wary renegade of a husband who claims that whenever genius strikes a blow for freedom it should be given credit.

Whoever took out the first patents on an automatic dishwasher back in 1850 struck a blow for freedom — freedom of men from being enmeshed in dishwashing against their inclination and desire.

Democrats in Trouble Finding Issues

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Adlai Stevenson, after knocking Estes Kefauver into the political bleachers, has the inside track for the Democratic presidential nomination, but —

The main problem of the Democrats remains exactly what it was before the primaries: Will they have issues sharp enough and heated enough to make the voters want to scrap President Eisenhower for a Democrat?

Neither Stevenson nor Kefauver was able to set any prairie fires with primary campaign attacks on Eisenhower and his administration. The reasons are not hard to find.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, the Democrats this year lack the inflammatory issues the Republicans had or were able to create in the 1952 campaign: the Korean War, the "scandals," and the Communist scare.

In the second place, the bulk of the Democrats and Republicans are so close together — in following a middle-of-the-road course — that the basic differences between them are more of degree than of kind.

A foreigner, or a person without emotional or political attachments to either party, might have difficulty recognizing any real differences between Democrats and Republicans at all.

In the third place, the Republicans have taken over the Democrats' basic programs, thus robbing them of a lot of talking points.

For the 20 years they were out of office the Republicans preached against what they called the "creeping socialism" of the New Deal and "Fair" Deals.

But after Eisenhower moved into the White House the Republicans not only retained all the major programs of the Roosevelt-Truman years, including foreign policy, but even expanded them. They repudiated none of them.

In the fourth place, the country is at peace, it is enjoying high prosperity, and war with Russia seems more remote than any time since 1948, all of which makes it difficult to get voters excited.

And even one of the issues upon which some Democrats seemed to be basing a lot of hope — the charge that the administration was giving away natural resources — has been diluted.

When Democrats start talking about giveaways, the Republicans can remind the voters that Southern Democrats were in the front of the fight which persuaded Congress to let the government give the states the oil-rich submerged lands.

And it was Southern Democrats who this year led the successful fight to get Congress to pass a bill taking direct federal control off the natural gas producers. Eisenhower vetoed the bill, while supporting its objectives.

Letters From Star Readers

Favors Moving Rail Lines

To The Star: I am offering this because the Marion City Council does not want an expression from the taxpayers and voters concerning the results of the traffic survey.

Taxpayers and voters do not always agree with engineers when money "outlay" is involved. There now are proposals before those who will pay for them. First to correct traffic problems and second, the sewage and drainage problems.

Both will not pass if submitted to the voters. Both have been conducted without any consideration for those who will pay for them.

I cannot find much wrong with the setup of street usage except that in a one-way arrangement it is not considered that Marion is only a two street town for through passage (Main and Center).

The other streets in the survey are dead-ended (one or both ends) or are too narrow for heavy traffic. No streets in Marion were built for heavy traffic except Center and Main and would have to be rebuilt, especially State and Prospect.

I have offered through the columns of the paper plans for the re-routing of the railroads and can repeat the same for the asking. While I still get my bread and butter from railroad employment, I will say that railroads present a problem.

Of course Marion has a problem in the number of motor vehicles and a parking problem up town. Underpasses will not correct that and no engineer can give the complete cost of the underpasses.

I am for elevating the north-south railroads and for removing the east-west railroads out of town. For the time being, let's just use the trial and error plan without much outlay of money. Later, get the railroads to come in on the plans I have been presenting for a number of years.

Foreign Trials for GI's

Are American servicemen deprived of their constitutional rights by the NATO Status of Forces Convention of 1953 and similar executive agreements with other nations?

The question is raised in connection with the foreign aid bill in the House and is likely to be debated in the Senate. The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 19 to 10 to withhold from floor action the question of denying military aid to any country that took to trial under its own laws criminal offenses by GI's when off-duty.

But Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio) says he will force a vote on an amendment to the foreign aid bill directing the President to negotiate agreements which give power to foreign nations to deal with offenses by American troops.

The Senate ratified the NATO agreement in 1953 by a vote of 72 to 15. Its guarantees include legal representation of his own choice for any GI taken into custody and "where court rules permit" — the right to have a U.S. representative at his trial.

Similar arrangements have been made by executive agreement with other nations where U.S. troops are stationed, including Japan, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Philippines. An agreement with West Germany is being negotiated. Sen. Walter F. George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in April 1955 said his group would "insist" that any agreement with Germany come before the Senate for ratification.

Ratification of the agreement in 1953 came only after the Senate had rejected, 53 to 27, a reservation sponsored by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) that would have forbidden trial of U.S. military personnel in foreign courts.

During consideration of the military reserve bill at the 1955 session, the Senate again rejected, 70 to 14, an amendment by Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) which would have banned assignment of additional troops to any country having criminal jurisdiction over U.S. military personnel.

In May 1955 the House had adopted a similar amendment by Rep. Bow to the reserve bill, 174 to 56, but the provision lost out when the first version of that bill was shelved.

In June the House defeated, 129 to 11, a proposal by Rep. Hamer H. Budge (R-Ida.) to withhold American aid from any country not waiving its right under "status of forces" agreements. The House committee's report on the 1956 foreign aid bill urged that "the status of forces problem be faced directly and considered on its merits."

Statistical reporting in the Pentagon is slow, but the latest report shows that 10,249 U.S. servicemen were charged in foreign courts in the one-year period ended Dec. 1, 1955. Of this total 6,448 involved traffic violations.

Foreign governments pressed only 3,142 of all cases, or about 30 per cent. Offenders were acquitted in 231 cases, reprimanded in 50 cases.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Baccalaureate for 1956

Gentlemen of the graduating class. You are about to escape from within these ivied walls, with no time off for good behavior, and enter the care of the probation officer known as Mister Outside World. I wish you luck, and from some of your marks, you will need it. You may have fooled the faculty and the dean. Off the campus it won't be so easy.

The world is calling for bright young men as never before, but it is not getting satisfactory answers, except on quiz shows. Opportunity lies ahead, stymied by the draft board and the enlistment requirements.

In these days you are entitled to considerable sympathy, knowing that the sheepskin no longer is a document affording a head start in the race for success.

FOR GENERATIONS a diploma launched a youth on a career at full speed. Today it can be merely a certificate to be shown after your service with the Armed Forces, to prove you are not as dumb as the top sergeant said.

We have reached a point in civilization where a boy-graduate can be leaving the campus, his best girl, his family, his civilian clothes and a fine job opportunity at one and the same time.

The old days when you could grab a job as life-guard, meet a millionaire's daughter, marry her by October and be a junior partner with popper's company by Christmas are over. Now there is a boot camp in your future. The girl's old man may be one of your camp colonels.

FOOTBALL AND CREW are not the help they were. Since the forward pass is limited to the high Pentagon brass and nobody can defend America with an oar or a tiller-rop.

Your college has done the best it could for you, even if we both doubt it. If it has failed it is due largely to overcrowding, and so many buildings that students and professors constantly turn up at the wrong place. Nevertheless a sheepskin is a sheepskin. Guard it with your life. Your prospective boss will ask to see it.

If he still expresses skepticism, the dean will wire confirmation, collect, but will not be responsible for further doubt.

ONLY ONE THING is certain. You will eat better out of college and be able to escape a dining hall regime which thinks meat loaf the staff of life, won't even serve a second helping of canned beans and lives in constant fear that during four years in college a kid will put on weight. I regret the dean can do nothing about this, as it is his duty to bow to any policy of the dining-hall dietitian that will cut expenses.

And so, gentlemen, hail and farewell. And as you leave please take those grubby-looking dirty white shoes and baggy khaki pants with you. Look sharp, act sharp, be sharp! And remember, wherever you go now you will be expected to keep your room clean.

SHORT STORY

"All is forgiven.
Hail fellow, well met."
Say the Russians to Tito. . .
(P.S. WANNA BET?)

A man took one drink in South Africa and knew nothing until he recovered his senses in New York. . . That's nothing. . . There are house party martinis which will give a fellow the round trip and an option on a repeat.

We don't think Bulgarian and Khrushchev are too happy in the same car with Tito. . . The Marshal is a glamor guy and easily eclipses them. . . He has something of the combined look of Goering, Mussolini and a wrestling Adonis, and wears a uniform as if poured into it. . . We think he had better dress a little sloppily for his own good.

Can you remember away back when a big business was thought to be doing very well even if it didn't have to go heavily into debt to get along?

We hear that recent mammoth tent meeting of Ford stockholders was disturbed by a stockholder who came in a Chevrolet. . . Why tents? Maybe a circus mood was thought best due to the fact that this was the first time in Ford history that bulls and bears were in the picture.

Caledonia Boy, 5, Hurt By Ricocheting Bullet

Ronnie Steel, 5, of near Caledonia, escaped serious injury about 3 p.m. Thursday when struck by a ricocheting slug from a 22 caliber rifle which his father, Robert Steel, was using for target practice, according to a report from County Sheriff Glenn Obenour.

The flying lead entered the bottom of Ronnie's left foot and emerged from the top, according to the report. The youngster was sitting on the floor of a house trailer when hit and Steel told the sheriff he didn't know the boy had been struck until he began to cry.

Ronnie was treated in the office of a Caledonia physician and released, Sheriff Obenour said.

The president of a famed university warns against America's obsession with mediocrity. Sure, we're obsessed with it, but most of us realize we'll never attain it.

Bucyrus Youth Is Sent to Lancaster

BUCYRUS — A 17-year-old area youth, involved in two drive-in theater burglaries May 19, has been committed to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster and his companion, also 17, has been placed on 18 months probation, according to information released here today by Crawford County Juvenile Court authorities.

The two youths and a 15-year-old Galion youth admitted burglarizing the Tin City Drive-In Theater east of Bucyrus and the Sunset Drive-In Theater east of Galion.

The Galion youth was committed to the Boys' Industrial School last week. He had been placed on probation after a break-in at the Tri-City Drive-In last year, the court said.

The youth placed on probation will be sent either to Lancaster or the Mansfield Reformatory, depending on his age, if he violates his probation, it was reported by court officials.

Loot from the two theaters totaled $450 in cash and checks and 275 packages of cigarettes. The two 17-year-olds were picked up by Mansfield police and the 15-year-old was arrested by Sheriff Elwood Jacobs. Most of the loot was recovered.

Kenton School Board Checks New Buildings

KENTON — The members of the Kenton Board of Education met Thursday and made an inspection of the three new buildings and one new addition now under construction. Plans are still that the children will be able to attend classes in the new elementary buildings in the fall.

Most of the furniture for the new buildings has arrived and is stored in the Ellis and High School gyms. Needs for repair and decoration were studied at the Espy, Ellis Central and High School buildings.

Of greatest concern is repair of the boilers at the High School buildings which will involve cutting the rusted parts out with a welders torch and rewelding a new section in place. At present there is no room at the Ellis building large enough to accommodate the vocal and instrumental programs. Plans are to remove a partition between two of the existing rooms providing a space of adequate size. The area will then be treated acoustically to control the sound.

Kenton City School District has been completed by Mrs. Harold Croy.

Condition of text books is being studied, and replacement of badly worn texts is planned. Three additional sewing machines are needed in the Home Economics Department of the High School due to increased enrollment. Bids were received from three local coal dealers for the next year's supply of coal for the schools. The bids are being studied and the contract will be awarded in a few days.

Suggestions on Serving Ground Beef

Hamburgers Are Tasty Warm Weather Fare With Other Foods

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Ground beef is so gregarious. You can team it with other foods and do quick tricks with it for warm-weather eating.

Some of our friends always add pure monosodium glutamate to the beef. Monosodium glutamate is a protein derivative long used in the Orient as an aid to developing flavor. Nowadays you find it on our market shelves in small white crystals in shaker packages.

One acquaintance of ours buys his ground beef the day before he plans to use it, sprinkles it with monosodium glutamate (½ teaspoon per pound of meat) and then refrigerates the mixture overnight. He claims that his method brings out the best in the beef. If you would like to try this, here are three suggestions for using the beef. The definite recipe we give you calls for adding the monosodium glutamate to the meat just before using.

JUMBO HAMBURGER

Shape a pound of ground beef into a big thick patty and brown it in a little butter, cooking it to

Old Reliable Ground Beef Garnished With Cheese

Then sprinkle the top of the meat with salt, black pepper, yellow with dry mustard.

and red with paprika. Now swoosh the meat — right over the seasonings — with a square of soft butter and let the butter ooze down into the skillet. (Naturally no salt or pepper are added to the beef before cooking this way). Remove the patty to a hot platter. Add a little water — two to four tablespoons is usually right — to the skillet and stir well; boil up and pour over the meat. Serve at once to three hungry eaters.

HAMBURGER SURPRISE

Shape eight flat patties out of a pound of ground beef. Place a tidbit in the center of four of them; an anchovy (flat or rolled); a thin slice of onion; a tablespoon of chili sauce or minced parsley; a thin round slice of dill pickle or cheddar cheese; a pickled mushroom; or a few thin slices of water chestnut (plain or pickled) or frankfurter. Place the remaining four patties over the ones you've garnished and press edges tightly together with your fingers. Cook in a skillet on the kitchen range or over the outdoor grill. If outdoors, count on two hamburgers for each person.

THREE DECKERS

Dip slices of eggplant in flour and then fry in butter until tender and lightly browned on both sides. Use each slice of eggplant as the base for a cooked hamburger; top each hamburger with a broiled tomato half.

BROILED HAMBURGER TOAST

Ingredients: 1 pound ground

beef, ¼ to 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon pure monosodium glutamate, 6 slices (regular thickness) bread, sliced cheddar cheese (cut into thin strips long enough to go across the bread slices).

Method: Break up meat with a fork on a chopping board. Sprinkle entire surface of meat with salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. Mix with fork or fingers to distribute seasonings, but don't pack down meat. Toast bread slices on one side only under broiler. Spread meat mixture lightly on untoasted side of bread, covering edges well so they won't burn. Broil about 3 inches from heat about five minutes or until almost cooked through; timing will vary with different ranges so watch carefully. Remove from broiler; cross with cheese strips and place under broiler until cheese melts. Makes 6 servings.

Note: This Hamburger Toast tastes good with green olives and a big salad of greens and sliced cucumber.

WHAT KIND OF BEEF?

Many cooks favor ground chuck for hamburgers. But some kitchen experts like to have round steak ground with a little suet for meat patties. If there's a weight-watcher in your family you can have lean round steak ground without the additional fat.

Pauper's Oath Doesn't Cut Hospital Expenses

ST. LOUIS — City Hospital officials thought they had hit on a method of stretching the hospital's drug money, which has run short year after year.

They began requiring clinic patients applying for free drugs to sign a witnessed statement: "I solemnly swear that I cannot afford to buy this medicine."

"Everybody signs it just like a routine order to get drugs," Dr. Cyril Costello, the hospital chief of staff, said.

"It has not done anything to cut down the expense of drugs to City Hospital."

Caudle Takes Stand in His Tax Fix Trial

Put Up With Lawyer For Evader 'Because Of High Connections'

ST. LOUIS (U)—T. Lamar Caudle, head of the Justice Department's Tax Division in the Truman administration, said he reluctantly put up with a tax evader's lawyer because the lawyer was a friend of the President and others at the White House.

Caudle, whose cross-examination continues today at his conspiracy trial in Federal District Court, told the jury Thursday he flew into a rage when he learned the lawyer, Harry I. Schwimmer, bought an oil royalty in Caudle's name.

"Cut Him to Ribbons" Caudle told the jury, "I cut him to ribbons. In fact, I had to apologize to my wife for the strong language I used."

Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, who was presidential appointments secretary under Truman, are on trial on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to stall or sidetrack prosecution of Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Schwimmer was Sachs' attorney.

Although he demanded the royalty be taken out of his name, Caudle said, he received three monthly payments from it. He said he endorsed the checks and sent them back to Schwimmer except for one which he cashed, paying Schwimmer the money out of his pocket.

Caudle told the jury by this time he was angry with Schwimmer but "I put up with him because he was a friend of the President and everybody else at the White House."

Not His Handwriting Caudle said the endorsement "T. L. Caudle" on four other royalty checks previously introduced into evidence by the prosecution was not in his handwriting and he had never seen the checks. All of the checks were dated in 1950 or 1951.

Caudle, who was fired by Truman for having conflicting outside interests, said he did not receive a penny's profit from the oil royalty and the hope of profit had nothing to do with his decision that Sachs, an epileptic, should not undergo criminal prosecution. Sachs was fined $40,000 on a plea of guilty to tax evasion in 1951 but escaped a prison sentence on health grounds.

Knights of Columbus Open House Slated Sunday

Visitors Will Be Guided Through Council's New Quarters

Final plans for open house at the new Marion Council, Knights of Columbus, home on E. Center St. are complete and all is in readiness for the observance Sunday afternoon.

Members of the open house committee made final arrangements for the open house at a meeting Thursday night.

The Council's new home, located at the corner of E. Center St. and Madison Ave., will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

INVITATIONS HAVE been extended to city and county officials and civic and fraternal groups and the local Council welcomes Marion and area residents to inspect its new home. Council members will serve as guides for tours throughout the Council property.

The local Council moved into its new home last fall. Directors agreed to purchase the home, formerly the Emil Ackerman residence, last August and the transaction was completed in October. The two-story, remodeled and redecorated structure has been used for meetings since December.

Chartered on May 25, 1902, the local Council previously held meetings above the Kresge department store on W. Center St. Other homes since the Council was chartered have been above the present Henney & Cooper drug store on W. Center St., the Uhler-Phillips building, the old True building on W. Center St. and the Marion Star building.

THE OPEN HOUSE

committee is composed of Robert A. Murphy, chairman, and George Baron, Charles Simonis, Francis McDaniel, Francis Norris, Joseph M. Dunn, William H. Simmons, Thomas E. Andrews, Larry Axe, William E. Lawler, Anthony D'Amato and Charles R. Dunn. Council officers are Charles Dunn, grand knight; D'Amato, deputy grand knight; Norman Schuelker, chancellor; Frank Daun, warden; Frank Lohr, inside guard; Charles Cupani, outside guard; Stephen Byrnes, financial secretary; Holley Baker, record secretary; William R. Martin, advocate; Robert Fesemyer, lecturer; Michael C. O'Brien, lone charter member of the Council; treasurer; Rev. William J. Spiekerman, chaplain; and Baron, Murphy and Simonis, trustees. Home trustees are Floyd Cornely, president; Dennis Malloy, vice president; Byrnes, secretary-treasurer; and Larry Axe, Alonzo Granger, Thomas Andrews, Francis Norris, Martin, Ted J. Frericks, Joseph M. Dunn and Charles Dunn.

Vandals Damage House

Complaint of vandalism and breaking and entering a new house being built at 260 Cummins Ave. was made to police Thursday by Don Porter of 134 Kemmore Ave. He said the interior of the house has been considerably damaged and the windows pried open to gain entrance also were damaged. He said the break-in occurred between 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. the next day, according to the police report.

Niagara

"All I know is that the walls and ceiling started to come down and I ran like hell," said Chris Nelson, 25, one of the crew. "I didn't stop for anything. I was really scared."

The station, largest hydro plant in the Niagara Mohawk system, was hit by three earth-shaking slides which followed each other in rapid order starting just before 5:30 p.m. When it was over, the six turbine generators in the two sections were buried in debris at the bottom of the 220-foot gorge.

The destroyed generators, all used in Niagara Mohawk's 25-cycle service for heavy industry, had a capacity of 200,000 kilowatts. The loss of power brought much of the area's chemical industry to a halt.

The third section, where company officials hoped they might salvage some remnant of their investment, housed four 7,200-kilowatt generators in 25-cycle service and nine 8,000-kilowatt generators in standard 60-cycle service.

All power in this city of almost 100,000 was cut off. A gradual return began within two hours as the company tapped current from other sources.

A company official said the collapse might have been caused by a seepage of water into rock crevices between the face of the gorge and the canal that fed water into the station to power its turbines.

OPEN HOUSE. Marion Council 671, Knights of Columbus, will conduct an open house at its new home at 1242 E. Center St. Sunday. The newly remodeled and redecorated home will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m. It includes a large meeting room, kitchen and reception room on the main floor, a secretary's office and three meeting rooms on the second floor, and recreation rooms in the basement.

Eisenhower

tion given to the President was administered before Pruitt's arrival.

Dextrose is a form of sugar. It is commonly used for intravenous feeding of patients for whom stomach feeding is deemed inadvisable.

The press secretary was asked specifically whether there had been any consideration of summoning Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist who has been a consultant on the Eisenhower case since the President's heart attack last Sept. 24. He said there had not been.

First Since September In reply to another question, Hagerty said this is the first time Eisenhower has suffered such a "stomach upset" since last Sept. 24.

That day, before the White House announced the President had suffered a heart attack, his aides characterized the ailment as a "digestive upset."

Hagerty said today: "Anybody can have an upset stomach."

That recalled a somewhat similar statement made by the White House at the time Eisenhower was stricken with his heart attack.

The announcement of that illness came from Murray Snyder, an assistant to Hagerty. Snyder said then it was in no way serious.

Hagerty said he was informed regarding Eisenhower's upset at about 8:15 a.m. today. He was called by a White House official whom he did not name.

Newsman questioned Hagerty as to the basis for his statement that there was "nothing wrong" with Eisenhower's heart.

Hagerty said Dr. Snyder told him that, but the press secretary said he was unable to go into detail.

Another reporter asked whether Eisenhower drinks alcoholic beverages.

"I think he takes a drink occasionally," Hagerty replied. But he said he did not know whether the President took a drink before dinner Thursday night.

Eisenhower attended the annual dinner of the White House News Photographers' Assn. Thursday night.

The meal served to him was especially prepared by the hotel on instructions from Dr. Snyder.

It differed from that served to other guests chiefly in the absence of a rich soup and a sauce on a filet mignon.

So far as was known this was the President's first illness requiring the attention of a physician since his heart attack.

The White House announcement today came at just about the time the President had been scheduled to start the day's official engagements.

Thursday night Eisenhower attended the annual banquet of the White House News Photographers' Assn. He left the affair about 11:10 p.m.

Eisenhower appeared to enjoy himself at the dinner, held at the Sheraton Park Hotel. He told his hosts in a brief talk that he also enjoyed the entertainment provided.

Jokes With Hope Among other things, Eisenhower joked about having played golf with screen actor Bob Hope, who was master of ceremonies at the dinner.

The President ate steak Thursday night along with the other guests, but his meal was prepared specially by the hotel under Dr. Snyder's orders. It was mainly a fatless diet.

How President Feels on Topic Of His Health

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower said last March he no longer would be in the job if he ever felt physically unequal to it. He added he didn't want to be pinned down to that promise by a touch of the flu or some minor upset.

At his March 7 news conference Eisenhower was questioned at length about the influence of his health on his plans and about Democratic charges that he would be only a part-time president.

When one reporter asked what he would do if he learned before nominating convention time that his physical condition was below par, Eisenhower replied:

"Unless I felt absolutely up to the performance of the duties of the President, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be there in the job or I wouldn't be available for the job."

Pressed as to just what he meant, the President grinned and said:

"Well, now, don't hold me down if I get a week's case of the flu or something else."

Eisenhower said he was talking about his general "organic fitness" and added that means "carrying a burden of hard work right on through the year and through the months."

Foreign Aid

by the committee slash. Rayburn said "it is necessary for the security of the country" to vote more money.

But in a rare repudiation of the joint leadership efforts, the House by a 192-112 standing vote turned down the 600-million-dollar restoration amendment offered by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.). A majority of Republicans on hand voted against Eisenhower's request.

For the 15-year period beginning with 1936, records show a total expenditure of $344,249,000. This figure does not include the lend-lease program of the war years, but does include public works projects under the big economic recovery program of the later 1930s.

The bigger cost now arises out of two primary factors:

1. The price tag on weapons is higher. The cost of material and labor for weapons production has gone up, like everything else.

2. The weapons with which World War II was fought were relatively simple by today's standards.

Knowland Says Ike Has His Complete Support

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) disclaimed knowledge today of a move to boom him for the Republican presidential nomination if President Eisenhower should change his mind about running.

Knowland said he knows nothing of the origin or sponsorship of circulars being distributed anonymously by a group which calls itself "Knowland for President."

"I withdrew from the presidential race completely when Mr. Eisenhower announced for re-election," said Knowland, the Senate GOP leader. "I am an Eisenhower delegate and he has my complete support."

Dr. White's Office Not Called About President

BOSTON (U)—The office of Dr. Paul Dudley White who treated President Eisenhower for a heart condition said today the physician had not heard from Washington about the chief executive's present indisposition.

Dr. White's secretary said he is keeping his day's appointments here as usual.

Galion Schools Slate Summer Class Program

GALION — A summer school program for pupils from grades one through eight will get underway in Galion, June 18, it was announced Thursday by Dwight L. Musselman, superintendent of schools.

The school program for grades one to three will emphasize remedial work in basic subjects of reading and number work. Class size will be limited to provide opportunity for the teacher to do much individual work. Children may take both reading and number work if so desired.

In grades four to six, in addition to the reading and arithmetic, English, including spelling, will be available.

Students in grades seven and eight will have the opportunity to take one of three subjects: English, mathematics or social studies. Small classes will give the opportunity for individual aid.

The program will be conducted for six weeks, with a registration fee of $13.00 charged for the work.

Preliminary registration is set for June 14, 1 to 2:30 p.m., in Room 6 at the Junior High School. Final registration will be held June 18, from 8 to 9 a.m. Classes will begin at 9 the same day. They will last from 9 to 11 a.m., each day.

Subjects offered for grades seven and eight will be offered from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day.

Traffic

the entire project for Routes 23 and 4 at $2,250,000.

All these points as well as some others were acknowledged in the motions adopted at last night's meeting. Specifically the motions adopted were:

1. The traffic count and analysis contained in the report states that only about 15 per cent of north-south traffic in Marion is inter-city traffic and the other 85 per cent is local traffic.

2. The two engineers advised the committee Tuesday night that a by-pass route to the east of the city is impractical now or in the foreseeable future because it is not presently programmed.

3. An alternate expressway route for Routes 23 and 4 to parallel the Pennsylvania Railroad through the city was declared unworkable Tuesday night.

4. The engineers stated that it is not recommended nor feasible to continue Main St. as the only north-south artery through the city.

5. The engineers and the report did recommend as feasible a one-way street plan with State St. to be one-way north and Prospect St. one-way south between Walnut St. on the south and Klerx and Patten Sts. on the north and that Routes 23 and 4 be routed over the one-way portions of these streets.

6. The engineers stated that both State and Prospect Sts. would be resurfaced, a hump on S. State St. just south of Gurley Ave. would be reduced, Klerx and Walnut Sts. would be repaved and Patten St. would be resurfaced.

7. The estimate of the total cost contained in the report is $2,250,000.

8. The engineering report recommended underpasses on N. State and N. Prospect Sts. at the Erie and New York Central tracks and Tuesday night, Mr. Roberts stated that bridging of underpasses for continuation of vehicular traffic on Mill St. is impractical.

9. It was stated Tuesday night that the state would pay 85 per cent of construction costs and 75 per cent of right-of-way costs of the proposed projects.

Mr. Dowler also read a letter from John Courtright Jr. reporting he could not be present for this week's meetings. He said that should the matter of whether to accept the report as the city's basic plan come to a final vote, he would like to cast a qualified vote in favor of it.

He explained that he did not believe the underpasses are economically feasible at the present time and would instead favor the adoption of the one-way street plan, more traffic control policemen in the downtown area and the use of a "little paint and ingenuity" to relieve traffic congestion now and in the foreseeable future.

Other members of the committee not present last night were John Burke and James Jenkins.

4 Men To Be Drafted From County For July

Four men will comprise Marion County's quota of the state's 712-man July draft call, according to Ohio Selective Service headquarters. The July total, statewide, is for 56 more men than were called up in June.

Marion's surrounding counties will furnish the following number of men: Morrow, two, Hardin, four; Union, three Delaware, six; Crawford, five; and Wyandot, four.

The youngest registrant who may be inducted in July must be at least 22 years old on or before July 1, unless he is a volunteer or a delinquent, draft officials report.

Bulganan

fact reduce their armed forces or by how much.

Eisenhower and Bulganan have exchanged a number of letters since the summit conference at Geneva last July. All the previous ones dealt with arms reduction.

On another aspect of foreign policy growing in part out of Russia's changing behavior and the effect it has had to spur neutral sentiment in some countries, the White House sought to dispel any misunderstanding over remarks Eisenhower made Wednesday at his news conference.

It issued a new statement described as a clarification, which reiterated Eisenhower's arguments in favor of increased security through collective defense. It said such collective arrangements represent "the best and most effective means of preserving world order within the framework of the United Nations."

Arguing in support of his foreign aid program, Eisenhower said, Wednesday that there are many reasons why some countries find it impractical to join military alliances. Moreover, he said, this does not always work to the disadvantage of the United States.

Some alarm was expressed in diplomatic circles that these remarks may have created an impression that the United States was setting a lower value than heretofore on the importance of its alliances and was putting a premium on neutrality in the cold war.

West Germany may have figured in the decision to put out the statement Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has encountered strong opposition in putting through laws authorizing the raising of military forces which Germany has undertaken to add to North Atlantic Treaty strength in Europe.

Adams Upset Some Asian allies also were reported upset. Pakistan and the Philippines have joined this country and others in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization while such nations as India and Indonesia have not.

The statement implied a caution from Eisenhower that countries which form alliances with the Communist powers—Russia or Red China—may find themselves in unspecified "difficulties."

"The President does not believe," the statement added, "that association for mutual security with the United States will involve any country in added danger, but on the contrary, will provide added security on the basis of mutuality and scrupulous respect for the independence of each."

As for the Bulganan letter, Ambassador Zarubin told reporters he could not discuss its nature but thought it would become public "very soon." White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said it would be published shortly.

In the exchanges to date, Bulganan had made clear the Soviet Union would not accept Eisenhower's "open skies" proposal for mutual aerial inspection except perhaps as part of a fully developed arms control plan. On his part he had proposed, and Eisenhower had rejected as not needed, the signing of a friendship treaty between Russia and the United States.

In the last previous letter on March 1, Eisenhower asked Bulganan to join in working out a plan to freeze the supply of atomic weapons at present levels and use future production of atomic materials only for peaceful purposes.

Shepilov Plans Visit

CAIRO, Egypt (U)—A Soviet Embassy spokesman announced today that Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov will visit Egypt "at the invitation of the Egyptian government." The spokesman would not say when the visit would take place.

Man Hunter Ends His Career at 91

HALE CENTER, Tex. (U)—J. Frank Norfleet, the man hunter, has retired.

"Of course, you have to tie him down," say members of his family. He's 91 years old now. It was in 1919 that Norfleet was in Dallas, Tex. when a gang of swindlers got the $30,000 with which he planned to buy a ranch. He resolved to track down the members of the gang.

Over the United States and Canada he traveled. Two swindlers were taken into custody in Los Angeles. Another was captured in Georgia. A fourth was found in Salt Lake City, then another in Los Angeles.

In five years he rounded up the men who swindled him. By this time he was a renowned detective and enjoyed the role. He made a career of hunting down confidence men. At one time he rounded up 41 swindlers in Denver. Many times his life was in danger.

His man-hunting career lasted about 20 years during which he stalked and caught more than 100 swindlers.

Diplomatic Note Sent To Others by Bulganan

BOON, Germany (U)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganan has sent a diplomatic note to West Germany and "a number of other governments," a German spokesman announced today. He did not disclose the subject.

Only Thursday President Eisenhower received a new 15-page message from Bulganan, believed to concern disarmament problems.

The note was delivered to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer here Thursday night by Russian Ambassador Valerian Zorin.

The spokesman said it did not concern current Moscow criticism of Adenauer for terming the attitude of Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev toward Germany "brutal and arrogant."

200 Million Russians

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet government says the Soviet Union's population totaled 200,000,000 in April and is increasing at a rate of between 3,200,000 and 3 1/2 million a year.

GOWN FOR 'QUEEN' Dorothy Mae Johnson, Miss Oregon 1955 and runner-up to last year's national winner, models the Everglaze Court of Honor creation to be worn by Miss America at the Atlantic City pageant of beauty. Manufacturers of Cars Look for Pickup in Fall

By SAM DAWSON
DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry—toughly at the charge its current ailments may be catching and upset the nation's good times in general—is trying some stiff medicine today.

It professes confidence that by fall it will cease to be one of the nation's fever spots. And it stresses that retail sales this year of an estimated 5½ million cars or more would be higher than the average of the six years prior to 1955.

THE DOSE, however, has a bad taste. The mixture includes: Layoffs around the nation of 185,000 or more; loss of overtime and often short weeks and pay checks for those still working; production cut back around 30 per cent from this time last year, with a drop in earnings for the companies, suppliers cutting back, too, auto dealers loudly bemoaning stocks on hand that recently topped 900,000.

Merchants watch business slide. And there's the hard to pinpoint effect on public psychology, particularly in the auto producing areas, but also throughout many other industries, and among many consumers.

The United Auto Workers Union has called in the mayors of 18 cities in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin to discuss here today what can be done to ease the pains.

Spokesmen for the industry say they expect present production schedule plans to be sufficient to whittle down inventories to 750,000 by the end of this month, to 700,000 by model changeover time and perhaps to 550,000 by the first of September—the traditional clean up period for the dealers and the happy hunting days of the annual bargain seekers.

General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice notes that GM has raised its production schedules six times and lowered them eight times during this 1956 model period. GM will take its final look around the middle of this month and set the rest of the course then.

PRESIDENT L. L. Colbert of Chrysler thinks present schedules about right because its dealers' inventories are in a better relation to production than at this time a year ago.

Ford takes a new look at schedules about once a month. President Henry Ford II calls present sales volume a return to normal after "the abnormal pace" of the 7¼ million car year in 1955.

All of the big three say that the failure of the traditional spring pickup in sales to appear this year was a surprise to most observers but didn't affect their changeover plans. GM and Chrysler expect to present their models around November 1 and Ford around October 1, in all cases the same as last year.

Ford adds that the dip in employment at changeover time will be kept as short lived as possible—"we lose money while the plant is down."

Hopes for a good pickup in the fall are based on many things. A top GM executive notes that used car sales have perked up, always a healthy sign. He expects better dealer relations and dealers "ready to do a better selling job." He notes that employment in general around the nation is still at top levels and personal incomes at a record high. He counts on people feeling better about planning and buying as the political uncertainties are settled.

Auto Dealer Gets Mt. Gilead Board Of Education Post

MOUNT GILEAD—Charles W. Birdsong, automobile dealer, was named a member of the Mount Gilead Exempted Village Board of Education when the group held its meeting this week.

Mr. Birdsong replaces Dale Mosher, former president of the group, who resigned to move to Detroit.

C. H. Calhoun, vice president of the board was named president and Luther Asman, a former president, was named vice president.

There are five vacancies in the Mount Gilead system. These include commercial; public speaking and social studies; two sixth grade vacancies; and industrial arts.

Patrol Auxiliary Holds District Meeting Here

A total of 90 members of the Ohio State Highway Patrol auxiliary representing Marion, Crawford, Morrow and Richland Counties, met Wednesday night in the Memorial Coliseum, with Marion County host to the monthly event.

Capt. W. Don Davis of the Marion post, introduced members of the invited posts, including Cpl. H. J. Cardwell of Bucyrus; Cpl. S. L. Adornatis from Mansfield; Cpl. D. M. Dewalt, Marion; and patrolmen E. P. Goffus, Bucyrus; C. S. Rice, Mansfield; and G. E. Moore, Larry Milakovich and L. D. Alexander, all of Marion.

Marion patrol chaplain Robert Brown, gave the prayer.

Carroll Ritchey gave a demonstration of magic, after which the American flag was presented to the Marion patrol post by local American Legion Post 584. The presentation was made by William Hillings, post commander, and Harvey Fout, past commander.

A motion picture, "Scenic Ohio," was shown and a buffet lunch was served. The next meeting is scheduled for Long's Lake in Cardington, with Morrow County as host.

AN OPEN LETTER

To The

Food Stores of Marion County

Marion County Ministerial Association

DEAR SIRS:

We, the Marion County Ministerial Association in session Monday, June 4th, wish to go on record as expressing our deep concern regarding the increasing tendency of the sale of alcoholic beverages in retail food stores. We deplore the fact that such beverages are being made available to the general public in this manner thus exposing children to alcoholic beverages when shopping for foodstuffs. It is our belief that this practice contributes to the lowering of the moral standards among the people in our community.

We commend the managers and owners of stores who have resisted the social and economic pressure to include the sale of alcoholic beverages in their stores.

Respectfully,

MARION COUNTY MINISTERIAL ASSN.
REV. RALPH WILEY Secretary.

Prodigal's Return By George Sokolsky

Tito is really a product of the errors of the West. It was the betrayal of Mikhailovich by the United States and Great Britain that gave Tito his strength and authority.

Perhaps in the year 1956, the name, Mikhailovich, is forgotten but he organized the resistance to Nazism and to Hitler in all the Yugoslavian countries; he organized on a democratic basis; he was opposed to the brutality of Communism as he was to the brutality of the Nazi.

Opposing Mikhailovich was Josip Broz Tito, Communist, member of the Third International and until 1948, completely dominated by the Kremlin whose agent he was. After Mikhailovich had served the Allied cause, he was abandoned by them and Yugoslavia became part of the Soviet world with Tito as dictator.

RUSSIA HAD NO troops in Yugoslavia and therefore Tito was freer than some of the other satellite dictators. Years before when Earl Browder had proposed "American exceptionalism" to the Third International, it was Tito who most violently opposed the Browder concept of Communistic nationalism.

Tito adopted this doctrine as his own and for it, in June, 1949, he was expelled from the Third International which at that time went by the name of Cominform.

As early as March 20, 1949, Tito wrote to Molotov that Marshal Bulganin, who was then minister of people's defense, was removing all military advisers and instructors from Yugoslavia because they are "surrounded by hostility." The reason offered by Tito.

The fact of the matter is that Soviet Russia attempted to reduce Yugoslavia to a satellite which Tito resisted. In a letter dated March 27, 1948, the Communist Party of Soviet Russia wrote to the Communist Party of Yugoslavia:

"WE READILY ADMIT that every Communist Party, among them the Yugoslav, has the right to criticize the CPSU, even as the CPSU has the right to criticize any other Communist Party. But Marxism demands that criticism be above-board and not underhand and slanderous, thus depriving those criticized of the opportunity to reply to the criticism.

"However, the criticism by the Yugoslav officials is neither open nor honest; it is both underhand and dishonest and of a hypocritical nature, because, while discrediting the CPSU behind its back, publicly they pharisaically praise it to the skies. Thus criticism is transformed into slander, into an attempt to discredit the CPSU and to blacken the Soviet system."

Tito replied on April 13:

"Among many Soviet people there exists the mistaken idea that the sympathy of the broad masses in Yugoslavia towards the USSR came of itself, on the basis of some traditions which go back to the time of Tsarist Russia. This is not so. Love for the USSR did not come of itself.

"IT WAS STUBBORNLY inculcated into the masses of the party and the people in general by the present leaders of the new Yugoslavia, including, in the first rank, those so seriously accused in the letter.

"The present leaders of new

Ike's Neighbors By Victor Riesel

It happened in President Eisenhower's private office some weeks before I was sprung from the hospital. It has not been reported, I put it on record because it shows how deep an interest the Chief Executive is taking in his new neighbors.

This is the year of labor's edifice complex and on a foggy morning Mr. President can look out and get a clear view of some brand new union buildings. So Ike had been reading up on just who are the men of labor.

In April, the President decided to meet one of these men who doesn't take the Republican Party as a personal insult. He is Maurice Hutcheson, leader of the Carpenters Brotherhood, who came to the White House with one of his aides.

THE PRESIDENT had two important advisers present and opened the conversation by pointing out that he had insisted on using union labor in the renovation of his Gettysburg home.

Then Mr. Eisenhower turned to Hutcheson and said he had been reading about this fellow, James Hoffa, of the Teamsters. What's he like, Ike asked.

One of the President's advisers bluntly criticized Hoffa. "Hutch" retorted that Hoffa was a friend of his.

Hutcheson then told the President that there was considerable difference of opinion over Hoffa and that the Detroit Teamster had his friends and his enemies inside labor. The Carpenters' chief added that there was always controversy — and that at the moment, for example, he disagreed sharply with the AFL-CIO's leader, George Meany, on many issues.

THE PRESIDENT grinned. He said that he was certainly glad to hear that there were differences of opinion in other organizations besides the Republican Party.

Well, last Monday, the President crossed the square and spoke at the official ceremonies opening the new AFL-CIO building — dedicated to unity of both forces. He got a chance to visit with neighbors and chat privately for a while with George Meany and Walter Reuther the day before the AFL-CIO executive council opened its weeklong meeting. But he never did get to know anything about the difference mentioned by Maurice Hutcheson.

The word "difference" is an understatement, fit in this case only for the diplomatic language one uses with the President of the United States.

THERE IS A FEUD between two forces inside labor which makes the Hatfield-McCoy thing look like a completely rehearsed and fixed wrestling match between two bearded giants.

The feud between the men behind George Meany and those behind Dave Beck and the Teamsters has completely stalled the actual merger of the AFL and CIO.

The technicalities are not important here. But it is fact that the

Triple Threat Artist By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK: Sammy Davis Jr., currently one of the hottest figures in show business, has an unusual ambition and makes no secret of it.

He wants to star in a Western movie.

The idea of a film featuring a Negro cowboy doesn't seem at all singular to Sammy.

"People forget that after the Civil War in a former slaves migrated and became cowboys," he said. "There were a lot of Negroes in the Old West."

"Sammy, whose mind is as restless as his agile feet, is an entertainer who always likes to try something new. He is looking forward to costarring with his friend, Frank Sinatra, in a film called "Jazz Train," and he'd like to do the "Story of Bill Robinson," the great Negro tap dancer who taught him many of his tricks.

THIS YEAR Sammy—a triple threat artist who can sing, dance and mimic—made his Broadway debut in the musical, "Mr. Wonderful"

To him that was like stepping

Jack Stoddard Talks on Golf To Kiwanians

Jack Stoddard, golf pro at the Marion Country Club, was guest speaker for the Marion Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Stoddard, who considers himself a salesman for the game of golf and good health, discussed the importance of golf as good recreation and relaxation. He added, it is classed as second only to fishing in popularity among outdoor sports.

He pointed out that the game of golf is not just for young men and women, adding that everyone can play. He said he has some golfers as young as eight or 10 years old and at least one 84 years of age.

In addition to his talk, Mr. Stoddard showed a color movie "Famous Fairways," in which six or eight different golf courses in the United States were shown and some of the famous golfers of the country were shown at play.

An announcement was made that for the club's June 21 meeting, the members will visit the Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. Marion Division plant and have lunch there.

Distributed to the members at the meeting was a booklet on the history of the club, accounting for its 35 years of activities since organized in January, 1921.

A visiting Kiwanian at the meeting was John Zinsmaster of Navarre, O. Guests included Jack Carr, Wayne Kuhn, Homer Huffman and Wally Thompson, all of Marion.

Jaycees Making Plans For Air Fair on June 17

Plans for the fifth annual Air Fair, which is scheduled for Sunday, June 17, at Municipal Airport, were discussed when the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce met Thursday night at the YMCA for its monthly business meeting.

Henry Pieracini is general chairman of this year's activities. Invitations have been sent to plane owners throughout Ohio and in surrounding states to fly to Marion for a visit. They will be welcomed at the airport by the Jaycees, and breakfast will be served to them in one of the hangars.

AS PART OF the annual Air Fair, an offer will be made to everyone for plane rides in modern planes at a cost of 1 cent per pound with a one dollar minimum.

The rides will be made available Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday. The rides will be approximately 15 minutes in length over the city.

A round and square dance will be held in conjunction with this year's event on Friday evening in one of the hangars at the airport. The public is invited and price of admission will be 50 cents per person.

Wilmer Smith, program and social chairman of the club, announced at last night's meeting that the annual inaugural dinner will be held next Thursday at Holiday Hill, near Delaware. The Jaycee and Jayceeette officers for next year will be installed at this time. Installing the Jaycee officers will be Ed Paulin, a district vice president of the state Jaycees and a member of the local club. The installation will be followed by dancing.

Jaycee President William Parks presented plans to the following new members into the club: Richard Creager, Robert G. Marshall, Robert Allen, William Greenhill and Harlan Ambrose.

Negro Churches Invited To Join Ohio Conference

LAKESIDE, Ohio (U) — Negro Methodist churches located in the territory of the Ohio Methodist Conference have been extended a welcome to join the conference.

The action was taken Thursday by the 1,300 ministerial and lay delegates attending the conference's annual session here.

Ohio Negro Methodist churches now are administered through the Lexington Conference of the St. Louis Area, Central Jurisdiction.

Proposed constitutional amendments approved by the 1956 General Conference in Minneapolis, calling for simplified procedure in integrating Negro churches, were expected to be ratified by the delegates today. Passage of the amendments requires a two-thirds vote of all the annual conferences.

The delegates Thursday unanimously adopted a report which says:

"We of the Ohio Conference extend a sincere and fraternal welcome to any or all of the churches of the Lexington Conference which are located within the territory of the Ohio Conference, and which may be considering transferring into the work and fellowship of our conference."

Wynn, Garcia, Lemon Will Pitch in Yankee Series

Cleveland Trailing by 4½ After 5-2 Loss to Orioles

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are holding their own in the American League pennant race. The New York Yankees haven't run away with it yet.

The Indians move into Yankee Stadium tonight just a game and a half farther behind the Yankees than they were a month ago.

On May 8th the Indians came here for their first series with the Yankees, trailing by three games. Now they trail by four and a half games, after Thursday's 5-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

Hold 3-2 Edge
The Indians, who hold a 3-2 edge over the Yankees this season, are in worse shape physically than they were when the teams last met on May 16. Herb Score, the young pitcher who beat the Yankees 6-5 on May 9, is in a Baltimore hospital with a digestive ailment. Dr. Erwin Mayer said Score will be released in time to join the team in Boston Monday.

Third baseman Al Rosen, sidelined for several weeks by a knee injury, is back in the lineup, but not yet in top form.

Outfielder Gene Woodling, disabled since May 8 by "dizzy spells," has recovered, but can't rejoin the Indians until June 15, since he has to stay on the disabled list for 30 days.

Pitcher Art Houtteman is nursing a sore shoulder and Preston Ward is crippled by a charley horse.

Probable pitchers for the three-game series here are Early Wynn against the Yanks' Mickey McDermott tonight, Mike Garcia against Whitey Ford tomorrow, and Bob Lemon against Johnny Kucks on Sunday.

McLish Defeated
Cal McLish Thursday was tagged for seven hits and four runs, two of them unearned, before he gave way to Bob Feller in the fifth inning.

Feller, who hadn't pitched since May 13, allowed only three hits the rest of the way.

Two Cleveland castoffs—Bill Wight and George Zuverink—held the Indians to five hits. The Tribe's runs came in the second inning on a single by Vic Wertz and a triple by Jim Busby. Busby scored when Willie Miranda's relay throw hit him and rolled to the dugout.

Souchak Sees Hogan Nailing 5th Open Title

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—Big Mike Souchak figures Ben Hogan will win his fifth National Open championship next week because Hogan can play all the shots and because he doesn't like to finish second.

By the same token, Souchak figures to do pretty well this week in the 15th Round Robin Tournament at Wykagyl. He held a slim lead over Bob Rosburg and Gene Littler after Thursday's opening round. He's a better-than-fair hand with a driver or iron and he doesn't see any sense in being runner-up.

"Who knows who finishes second," Souchak asked after shooting a 67 and piling up 15 points in the first of the Round Robin Tournament's five rounds. "I finished second 10 times last year and nobody knew it. This year I was second a couple of times, then finally won one. Still, to be in the top 10 every week, you have to be very good. There are so many good players around."

Souchak's round of 34-35-67 over the par 34-35-67 course Thursday gave him only a one-point advantage over Bob Rosburg and Gene Littler going into today's two rounds. Souchak, playing with Fred Haas, who shot at 69, Billy Maxwell and former Open champion Lloyd Mangrum, netted 15 plus points. Littler and Rosburg, fattening on Fred Hawkins and England's Henry Cotton, respectively, scored 14 each.

The wild-shooting, straight-putting Rosburg had 34-34-68 for the day's second best round. Littler and Haas, each with 34-35-69 were third in scoring.

Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio fired a 75 for a minus 2 point-standing.

Little League Teams Remain In 2-Way Tie

Vance's and Marion Power Shovel-OSCO remained at the top of the National League heap with Little League victories Thursday night.

Vance's edged Hinton's 4-3 after MPS-OSCO whipped Wilhelm's 11-2 to remain deadlocked for top spot with 4-1 marks.

A three-run rally in the fifth enabled Vance's to edge Hinton's in the nightcap. Hinton's fell short in the sixth with a pair on two hits.

Neal Hall held Hinton's to four hits and escaped the sixth despite a home run by Mike Moore to chalk up the victory. He fanned nine, walked three and hit a batter.

Gil Taft and Randy Traugh worked for the losers, allowing five hits, three of them in the three-run fifth. They fanned seven and walked two.

Danny Roseberry had two hits for the winners.

Larry Merchant of MPS-OSCO handcuffed Wilhelm's on four hits and coasted after the winners erupted for six markers in the third on only three hits.

MPS-OSCO scored once in the first, twice in the second, and added two more tallies in the fifth to conclude its scoring. Wilhelm's was held scoreless after the first when the losers scored their lone runs on two hits and an error.

Merchant struck out six while walking three. George Hill, Jack Waddell and Jon Wilson chucked for the losers, allowing 12 hits, fanning eight and walking seven.

Title Shot at Stake Patterson Given Slim Edge Against Hurricane Jackson

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, a graceful, precision puncher ticketed for fistic greatness, and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, an eccentric, unorthodox mauler, clash tonight in a 12-round elimination bout that will move the winner one step from the vacant heavyweight throne.

The 21-year old Patterson, grown into a 181-pound, six-footer, is a 2-1 favorite to whip the strong, tireless 6-2½, 193-pound Jackson and go on to a title fight against light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in September.

Slip Starter
Note that Brown said "after the third round." It's the first two that worries Jackson's camp. Tommy is a notoriously slow starter, as vulnerable as a balloon to a bullet during the first two heats.

Patterson's forte is speed and he can pour it on from the opening bell. Although he has won his last 11 fights by knockouts in stretching his win streak to 16, he still hasn't won recognition as a power puncher.

Clair Baker Takes Lebanon Feature
LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Astral Will which had a second and a third in three previous starts here, Thursday night won the $500 Class CC pace at the Lebanon Raceway.

Astral Will, owned by F. M. Baker of Columbus and driven by Clair Baker, reeled off the mile in 2:08.2½ which established a new time for him. His mutual payoff was $10.40, $6.20 and $5.60.

There was a crowd of 1,927 for the nine-race program and the mutual handle was $87,554.

The spring meeting here will end Saturday night.

Opens Dodger Series

Cincinnati Drops Phils 8-5, Grabs Top Spot in NL Race

CINCINNATI (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts, who says he's a pretty good card player, led from his weak suit Thursday and finished the Cincinnati Redlegs right into first place in the National League.

The last time the Redlegs ever were in first place on the June 8 date was in 1940 when they won the pennant and the World Series.

Four starting pitchers have been carrying the load in the Redlegs' drive so Tebbetts went to his admittedly weak second-line hurlers for a starter against the Philadelphia Phils.

5 Pitchers Used
He brought out Hal Jeffcoat and from the time Jeffcoat faded out of the picture in the sixth, Tebbetts shuffled four more hurlers into the game before the Reds won it, 8-5 as the Chicago Cubs beat previous front-running Pittsburgh.

Now his first-line right-handers are ready for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who moved in for a three-game series. The Dodgers are fresh from winning three out of four from Milwaukee.

Tebbetts was quick to claim that his move in starting Jeffcoat, a onetime outfielder, was not just to save Johnny Klippstein, Art Fowler and Brooks Lawrence for the Dodgers.

"We need a fifth starting pitcher," he said. "Somewhere, I've got to find one. Jeffcoat had been doing such a good job in relief. I thought I'd try him. And I thought he did pretty good."

Tebbetts said he wanted to give his other starters four days of rest—something they haven't been getting.

"But I wasn't saving anyone for Brooklyn," he said. "Who knows, it might rain Saturday or Sunday. And if Fowler (who pitched an inning in relief yesterday) had had to go more than an inning he couldn't have been used against Brooklyn. Then we would have had to use Joe Nuxhall against them."

The Dodgers have quite a reputation for feasting on left-handers such as Nuxhall.

Klippstein was due to get the starting assignment tonight for the Reds against Brooklyn's Sandy Koufax.

In Thursday's game, the Redlegs had to come from behind twice to win. They fell behind in the opening inning as the Phils scored three times on only two hits. Two walks and an error by Ray Jablonki set up one of the runs.

Came From Behind
In the second a pitch that hit Roy McMillan forced home one Redleg run after Wally Post doubled, Jablonki singled and Smokey Burgess walked. A single by Jeffcoat and a sacrifice fly drove in two more.

Marv Blaylock's home run, a double by Stan Lopata, an infield fly.

out and an error by Ted Kluszewski gave the Phils two more runs in the fifth.

Walks, an error, infield outs and Kluszewski's single knotted the count in the seventh. In the eighth Burgess opened with a home run that broke the tie and two more runs came in on a single by McMillan, Johnny Temple's triple and Frank Robinson's sacrifice fly.

Yogi Leads Attack
By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer
Now that Kansas City Manager Lou Boudreau has Mickey Mantle "figured out," what's he going to do about Yogi Berra?

Boudreau did about as good a job of "stopping" Mantle as any one has this season, employing a shift that packs the defense to the right. The Mick got only four hits in 11 trips and his major league leading average dropped from .411 to .403 in the three-game series just completed by the A's at Yankee Stadium.

Gets 6 for 9
But what about Berra? The Yogi smacked six hits in nine trips in the three games, drove in five runs, scored six and hit three homers. The Yanks hardly knew Mantle was missing.

Berra, a bad ball, spray hitter, hit his 16th homer and fourth in four games—to get the Yankees rolling on a 9-1 decision over the A's Thursday. He added two singles and drove in two runs—giving him six homers, 10 RBIs and a .545 average in six games against the A's this year.

The victory pushed New York into a 4½-game lead as runner-up Cleveland was dumped by Baltimore 5-2. The Chicago White Sox beat Washington 7-5 and Boston trounced Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings.

Cincinnati's rugged Redlegs boomed into the National League lead, by a half game over idle St. Louis, by blasting Philadelphia 8-5 while the Chicago Cubs dropped Pittsburgh to third 5-2. Milwaukee closed Brooklyn's winning streak at four games as Bob Buhl pitched a four-hitter to win the opening game of the series.

Hank Bauer hit his 13th homer for the Yankees, knocking in his Ninth-inning triples by Nellie Fox and Dave Philley, combined with sacrifice flies by Minnie Minoso and Larry Doby, won for the White Sox and reliever Howie Pollet. The Sox blew a 3-0 lead and had to score once in the eighth to tie it at 5-all. Pete Ramos lost in relief.

Erie Team Takes Lead
In Industrial Contests

Erie No. 1 moved into the lead in the Industrial League No. 2 Thursday night at Garfield Park, downing OSCO 4-3 for its third straight win.

In other action last night, Marion Power Shovel handed Local 750 its first league setback 9-4 and Marion Metal blanked McMillen 5-0.

A three-run uprising in the fifth inning gave the Erie club its win. The Railroaders had pushed over a single tally in the first inning but OSCO came up with two markers in the third to lead 2-1.

Three hits, a fielder's choice and a hit batsman accounted for the winning rally. Ozzie French, Dwight Wilcox and Lundquist all banged out two hits for the losers. Dick Roseberry and Gruber both had two hits for the Erie and Dick Latimore belted a triple. Eight base runners were stranded by the losers while 11 were left by the winners.

George Smith held the McMillen hitters to three safeties in cruising to the 5-0 victory behind his Marion Metal mates. The winners led 1-0 after the second frame and iced the contest with four collected in the sixth.

Trimmer, Winters and Herr collected hits in the second to push in the first run. A double by Smith, three errors and a base on balls accounted for the four in the sixth. Oborn, Dillenger and Heller collected the losers hits with Heller's being a three-base smash.

Marion Power Shovel scored two in the first, one in the second, five in the third and one in the seventh as Bud Thorpe coasted to the 9-4 win over Local 750.

Four hits, two walks and Murray's triple figured in the big third inning. Carl Uline, Bib Higgins and Harbott all had two hits for the winners. Bill Everly was on the mound for the losers. He gave up six hits.

Olson Awaits Further Tests By Physicians

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former middleweight champion Bobo Olson says he has no intention of quitting the ring but his final decision awaits further medical tests.
Bobo was considered quite a rugged fellow until he succumbed to quick knockouts in title fights with light heavyweight titlist Archie Moore and middleweight Ray Robinson twice.
Olson and his manager, Sid Flaherty, said tests this week indicated no damage to the 27-year-old fighter physically or neurologically. His brain is undamaged and no evidence of a so-called "glass jaw" was found.
Flaherty said, however, "there are going to be further exhaustive tests."

Edison School Hires Huffman As Top Official

Walker J. Huffman, 30, was hired by the Edison Board of Education this week as the new superintendent of schools. Mr. Huffman succeeds H. H. Gieger, who resigned.

The new superintendent will complete his work this August for his master of education degree at Bowling Green State University.

A graduate of Zanesville High School, he attended Ohio Wesleyan University before completing his work on his bachelor of science degree at Ohio State University.

He comes to Edison from Meeker School in Marion County. He was a coach and teacher at Meeker from 1952 to 1953 and coach and local school executive there from 1953 until the present.

A Navy veteran, he is married and has three children.

Hiring of Mr. Huffman and a coach, not named as yet, completes the Edison staff with one exception, according to county Superintendent of Schools T. A. Gantz. Yet to be hired for the Edison staff is a vo-ag instructor to replace R. S. Beard, who resigned to devote full time to his teaching duties at Mount Gilead.

He joined the Post Office Department in April of 1953 and last October received his present appointment. He is the brother of Miss Lela Brookshire of 194 Olney Ave., a member of the staff at Eber Baker Junior High School. Mr. and Mrs. Brookshire make their home in Yorktown Village, Md. She is the former Miss Ruth Adams of Marion.

Removing Shirt Against Law—in Some Instances

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Under some circumstances it can be construed as disorderly conduct if you take off your shirt while painting your garage window on a hot day.

A schoolteacher from suburban Conklin discovered that and paid a $10 fine after pleading guilty before a peace justice.

Authorities said the defendant, Miss Selena Mary Smith, wasn't wearing anything under the shirt.

Mount Gilead Officials To Obtain New Roller

MOUNT GILEAD — Members of the Mount Gilead Village Council passed an emergency ordinance at their regular meeting this week. The ordinance authorizes the mayor, Emery Murphy, and clerk, Mrs. Harriett Stauffer, to purchase a self propelled roller of 6,000 pounds for work on village streets.

Bids are to be received until June 20 at noon. Estimated cost is approximately $1,500.

The village has been renting a roller from Ken Roll, the Pfahler Manufacturing Co. in Galion. If their model is purchased the rental already paid will be applied to the purchase cost.

Work of repairing Park Avenue and North Cherry street is now underway by the village.

Parking lines are being painted on downtown streets this week.

Bell With Music

"I wrote the book in angry haste — and I chose a far better than average Allied Military Government officer, Joppolo, as its protagonist, and a worse than average regular Army officer, Marvin, as its antagonist, because was just back from the front and I was all hot and bothered," John Hersey wrote in the forward for his Pulitzer Prize-winning novel "A Bell for Adano," which CBS-TV turned into a 90-minute musical the other night.

A great deal of "hot and bothered" quality and much of the anger and the haste are still quite evident in "A Bell for Adano," but these are not so much its weakness as its strength. The anger and the haste have made it a taut, unabashedly sentimental but unmistakably honest story.

That's the theme of the story — the impact of American culture at its best and at its worst on a little Italian town — and to a lesser extent the impact of the Italians on their American conquerors.

The best is represented by Maj. Joppolo, a military government officer, who believes his mission is not only to feed and restore normalcy to his little Italian town but also to minister to its spiritual needs. Their chief need at the moment is to get a bell to replace the one that had been taken to melt into guns.

THE BAD AMERICAN, a Maj. Gen. Marvin who is delayed by a water cart in his way through town, orders all carts kept out of town even though the populace might die of thirst. In the end Adano gets its carts back and its bell and Goppolo, though banished, is the real victor.

The CBS production, which was beautifully directed by Paul Nickell, opened with some stunning live shots of the town streets and houses and squares and finally its people. Nickell kept his camera roving through the market places and the houses and City Hall in a way that gave the production great spaciousness.

Barry Sullivan was every inch a Maj. Joppolo — a mixture of Yankee idealism and practicality. I was less happy about Anna Maria Alberghetti as his Italian girl friend. Miss Alberghetti is decorative all right but not much else, though, come to think of it, it isn't much of a part.

ACTUALLY, I FOUND Mr. Hersey's Americans a good deal more convincing than his Italians, who were a little too fundamentally childlike. The Italians are that way, all right; but they have a little more depth than that.

Arthur Schwartz, the producer, and Howard Dietz contributed five new songs. They were good songs, especially "A Bell for Adano" and a very cute and catchy song called "Fish," but I don't know that they added much to the story.

Altogether, though, I think this was the happiest of the Schwartz 90-minute productions to come along so far. Chief credit, of course, should go to Mr. Hersey. His and hasty little book has stood up very well.

Galion Schools Add Assistant In Main Office

Blosser Is Promoted At Special Gathering Of Education Board

GALION — Supervisory staff additions were approved by the Galion Board of Education at a special meeting Thursday night, and several assignments were made.

In making the additions several changes were noted in the school system. The board was advised by Dwight L. Musselman, superintendent of schools, that the present state foundation program recognizes the need in school supervisory personnel, special teachers and special services that will aid in the improvement of teaching and development of students. When these positions are placed in the Galion schools, the state department of education will make allowance for additional funds in computing the allowance for each school system, he said.

Blosser Named Assistant

J. H. Blosser was named assistant superintendent of schools with duties of curriculum study and classroom supervision at a salary of $7,600, with a contract for three years. He is now serving as principal at the Junior High and West Elementary Schools, a position he has held for several years.

Norman Henline, a junior high school faculty member who has been athletic director, was named principal of the Junior High and West Elementary Schools at a salary of $5,600 for one year.

E. R. Pickering was assigned the position of organizer of a guidance program and to supervise and administer a school testing program in grades 1-12. His salary for this will be $6,500 on a continuing contract. Pickering is now serving as principal of Senior High School.

'No New Taxes' Long Pushes For Louisiana Revenue Hike

BATON ROUGE, La. — Bills to raise taxes an estimated 45 million dollars today await action in the first Louisiana Legislature to convene since Gov. Earl Long was elected on a promise of no new taxes.

The brother of the late Sen. Huey Long won an overwhelming victory in January on a platform which included: "I pledge there will be no increase in taxes." Afterwards the governor said more revenue was needed to meet expanding state services, boost teacher pay and increase welfare benefits.

None of the 17 tax-raising bills introduced since the Legislature opened May 14 has cleared both houses. Administration forces Thursday bulldozed the first Long tax bill to 78-12 House passage. The bill would increase the tax on liquor from $1.50 per gallon to $1.60.

Long's power will be tested next week when his bills come up for floor action. Under a new constitutional amendment, a tax increase must win two-thirds approval.

Heavy opposition was expected on taxes affecting sulphur, natural gas, pipelines, race track betting, timber and utilities.

Long personally directed proceedings as the House Ways and Means Committee approved bills to increase the severance tax on sulphur from $1.03 to $3 per ton and to raise the 13 per cent tax on race track betting from 13 per cent to 17 per cent.

Revenue from the sulphur tax would provide 4½ million dollars for teachers. There was no estimate of the extra race track revenue, which would go to Louisiana State University and state fairs and festivals. However, operators of the fair grounds in New Orleans said they would close down rather than pay the extra tax.

Mrs. Biddle Dies; Was Ex-Wife of Diplomat, Heiress

PARIS — Mrs. Margaret Thompson Biddle, wealthy copper heiress and divorced wife of diplomat Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., died early today of a cerebral hemorrhage. She was 54.

Mrs. Biddle was stricken after returning to her Paris home from the opera.

Her death came without warning. She had been planning a birthday party at her home here next week for her son and had intended to spend this weekend completing the decoration of a home she recently bought at Cap Ferrat, on the Riviera.

Married in 1931 to Biddle, she went with him to Warsaw when he was named U.S. ambassador to Poland and was with him there when World War II broke out. Together they accompanied the Polish government in its withdrawal through central Europe to France.

The Biddles made their wartime home in England, where he was American ambassador to all the refugee European governments headquartered there and she ran various service canteens.

After their postwar divorce, Mrs. Biddle spent most of her time in Europe although she maintained a home in New York and visited America frequently.

6,800 Take Advantage Of Telephone Prayers

At the end of one week, 6,800 residents here have demonstrated interest in a new and "unique spiritual service" for Marion made available by dialing 3-2178 for "prayers by telephone."

This service is provided by the young people of Epworth Methodist Church through cooperation of the General Telephone Co. Beginning at midnight, May 31, a recorded "prayer for the day" has greeted the caller of the special telephone number and the 6,800 count was chalked up by 8:30 a.m. today. The automatic "electronic secretary" device is the means used in the "round the clock daily presentation."

Included in the brief call are music, Scripture and prayer by the Epworth Church pastor, Rev. Walter C. Eyster. The purpose is the "bringing of spiritual comfort and solace" to the listener. "Prayer Changes Things" is the slogan chosen by the committee of the Youth Fellowship sponsoring the project.

New Crestline Phone Offices To Be Erected

CRESTLINE — William C. Henry, president and general manager of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co., announced today that a new telephone office will be constructed in Crestline.

The new office will be located on the site of the former Roy Payne residence at 115 N. Thoman St. The company recently purchased the site which is located one-half block north of the city building and also one-half block north of the existing telephone company building.

A new building and an entirely new dial system is planned. The building will be a modern fireproof brick structure with complete storage and parking space on the lot, Mr. Henry said.

Mr. Henry said the present telephone building can accommodate only 50 more subscribers' lines. Because of the growth of the city, he explained, the company felt it advisable to provide a building which will be adequate for future requirements. During the last 10 years, he pointed out, the number of telephones in Crestline has increased from 1,244 to 2,118.

Mr. Henry stated that the new building is to be started late this fall or early next spring. The new dial equipment will be ready for use in the fall of 1957, he declared.

He said a new cable will link Crestline with Galion making it possible to provide an indefinite number of circuits between the two locations.

Merger of Glass, Can Making Companies Planned in August

NEW YORK — A merger by two big competitors in the container field today awaited stockholder approval in August.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of Continental Can Co., and John Harrison McNash, chairman of Hazel-Atlas Glass Co., announced the merger plans of their firms late Thursday.

The merger of Hazel-Atlas into Continental Can (Canco) would put the latter in a position of being able to meet practically every packaging requirement of its customers.

It would place Canco in the glass container business for the first time.

Terms of the proposed plan are that Hazel-Atlas shareholders would receive 999,141 shares of Canco common stock. This would be in a ratio of 47-100 share of Canco for each share of Hazel-Atlas.

On this basis, Canco would have a capitalization of $79,648,000 in long-term debt, 150,000 shares of $3.75 cumulative preferred stock and 8,755,499 shares of common stock.

The present capitalization of Hazel-Atlas consists solely of 2,172,045 common shares.

At the end of 1955 Canco had total assets of $381,917,161 and working capital of $110,815,816. Hazel-Atlas had total assets of $37,884,425 and working capital of $19,904,256.

Canco has 86 manufacturing plants located in 27 states, Canada and Cuba. Hazel-Atlas has 13 plants, including one in Zanesville, Ohio.

The agreement will be up for approval by a special meeting of Hazel-Atlas stockholders to be called some time in August.

The merger is considered a logical step in Canco's diversification, said Clay. The company makes metal containers, fiber drums, paper containers, bottle crowns and other packaging products. Hazel-Atlas is engaged primarily in the manufacture of glass containers for food products, cosmetics, toiletries, beverages and drugs as well as of glassware.

Oklahoma Puzzle: Why Do Turtles Cross Road?

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—For those who have pondered the enigma "Why does a chicken cross the road?", give up!

There is a new puzzle: "Why does a turtle cross the road?" This is the time of year when the fig leaves are ripe, and in Oklahoma the voice of the turtle may not be heard but the turtle is certainly seen.

Thousands of the dry-land terrapins are taking over the highways. It's the motorists in the soup, not the turtles.

The highway patrol says the turtles are a great hazard as motorists try to miss them by swerving suddenly.

Many Oklahomans take special note of the faster terrapins and are ready to jump out of their cars to snatch them as prizes. Terrapin racing is a growing sport in the state.

There are several explanations for the greater number of terrapins on Oklahoma highways, including the profound observation more turtles are crossing roads now because there are more roads to cross.

Julian Frazier, director of the Lincoln Park Zoo here, said he has received hundreds of calls from harried turtle lovers—and haters—wondering about the terrapin migration.

"This seems to be one of the biggest years," he reports. "And there is a scientific reason why the turtles are on the move."

"It has been dry an awfully long time in Oklahoma, which is what the reptiles like. Now that the rains have come, they're moving to higher ground."

Frazier laughingly adds another reason: "It's spring and a boy terrapin crosses the road because there is a girl terrapin on the other side."

Eisenhower Campaign Post Taken by Actress

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Helen Hayes has accepted the post of women's finance chairman of the National Citizens for Eisenhower.

At the official opening Thursday of the women's division headquarters Miss Hayes, commenting on her chairmanship, said: "I have never accepted any role in 50 years in the theater with greater dedication, enthusiasm or gratitude."

New Stamp in Wildlife Series Will Be Issued

The Post Office Department will issue a 3-cent stamp, the second of the three stamps being issued to emphasize the importance of Wildlife Conservation in America, through the Gunnison, Colo., post office, on June 22, 1956, on the occasion of the annual convention of the Colorado division of the Isaac Walton League.

It will be on sale in other post offices the next day.

The stamp is 0.84 by 1.44 inches in dimension, arranged horizontally with a single outline frame. The color will be brown.

The central design of the stamp portrays a buck and two does of the Pronghorn Antelope species in their natural habitat.

Steel Companies To Take Time on Counter-Proposal

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel officials say it will be at least a week before the industry's "Big Three" make counter-proposals to demands by the United Steelworkers of America.

Contract talks began here Wednesday between the union and United States, Bethlehem and Republic Steel corporations. They resume today.

John A. Stephens, U.S. Steel vice president in charge of industrial relations, announced Thursday the prospective timing of management counter-offers.

Stephens spoke at a press conference after newsmen complained to both sides about a "blackout" curtain on negotiations.

Both management and union officials united in saying there was no likelihood of any further statements this week.

Stephens said the union's proposals—including wage increases—had been a long time in preparation and that the companies likewise would need time to study the demands.

Youth's Body Found

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The body of a youth identified by police as James Horn Jr., 18, of Columbus was recovered by fishermen Thursday from the Scioto River.

Detective Sid Hoyt said the body was fully clothed and there was no evidence of foul play.

'Right to Work' Laws Studied by Clergymen

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The General Board of the National Council of Churches Thursday sent a report critical of "right to work" laws back to committees for further study. Its Division of Christian Life and Work has already studied it for two years.

"Right to work" laws prohibit closed shop contracts. They have been adopted in 18 states over the opposition of labor unions.

The 250-member General Board, governing body of the nation's largest church group, failed to act on a proposed policy statement that said law should neither require nor forbid union membership as a condition of employment, but the issue should be left up to labor-management negotiation.

There were 1,264,925,000 cases of soft drinks sold in the United States in 1955.

Sure Jack was lucky . . .
But, You Can't Bank On Beans!

Our fairytale friend speculated in beans . . . and profited by the venture. But, you know it doesn't always work that way (supposing the golden goose had been a gander?) The sure way to build your money is by opening a savings account at National City.

The principle is simple. Once you open your account, saving regularly becomes easy. Each pay day you deposit whatever amount you can spare. Even small amounts you'll never miss now grow into surprising sums later. And, if you have trouble with money trickling away for minor purchases, a saving account gives you the incentive to hold on to it . . . makes you think twice before you draw it out.

Best of all, your account earns interest twice a year, every year. Every penny's safe, too, because National City insures your deposit up to $10,000 through Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Saving with National City is a giant for convenience, too. Automatic tellers' machines quickly and accurately record your deposits. You can make deposits on your account at any of the six National City offices, bank from your car at West Town Drive-In and enjoy the convenience of banking by mail. So, use your "old bean" about banking. Get started soon on the regular saving habit the National City way.
